The amount outstanding November 1, 1858, as stated in the last report from this office, was $8,548 22, which, upon examination, I found to be incorrect, and have corrected it as above. The error has been transmitted through the published reports from year to year, so long that I have been unable to ascertain its origin. Similar errors have been discovered in the loan account of other trust funds, and corrected for this report. The amount received from the Branch Bank, Evansville, as well as of saline fund, received from the same source, is derived from an investment in the stock of that branch, under the act of 1841.

GENERAL REMARKS.

THE FINANCES OF THE STATE.

The entire indebtedness of the State, foreign and domestic, so far as it can be ascertained, is, as heretofore stated, $10,268,855 57. What amount of six per cent., five per cent., and quarter per cent. scrip may be still outstanding, cannot be conjectured. Of the present indebtedness the sum of $1,000,000 in round numbers, has resulted directly from the failure of the Legislature of 1857 to pass a law for the collection of Revenue, and the sum of $500,000 from a similar failure or refusal of the Legislature at its called session of 1858. The portion of the public debt which had been redeemed up to November 1, 1858, amounted to $391,810 00, consisting of $150,000 of five per cent., and $241,810 00 of two and a half per cent. state stocks. These stocks have all been sold to defray current expenses and meet the semi-annual payment of interest due in New-York on the 1st of July last. A bill was passed by the Legislature authorizing the sale of these stocks to the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, but having failed to become a law for want of a proper title, the Board declined to act under its provisions, and hence it became necessary to find other purchasers.

THE APPROPRIATION ACCOUNTS.

As will be seen by the statement of the accounts, several of the appropriations have been overdrawn—some of them quite largely. A variety of causes have produced this result. The large amount of printing ordered by the Legislature at its called and regular sessions, rendered it impossible to avoid overdrawing the Public Printing and Fuel and Stationery accounts—to the latter of which is charged the paper used by the Public Printer.

The appropriation for the Judiciary was made only large enough to cover the salaries of the Supreme and Circuit judges under the new Salary bill, while an act passed at the extra session of 1858, authorizes circuit judges to appoint and hold special terms of their own courts, and allows them five dollars per day, payable out of the State Treasury, for each day employed in holding such terms. Besides this, an act of 1855 authorizes the appointment of an Attorney to sit as judge, in case the proper circuit judge is unable to attend from sickness, or has been of counsel to one of the parties, or is otherwise disqualified, and makes a similar allowance to such Attorney, payable out of the State Treasury.

Partly for the same reason is the appropriation to Prosecuting Attorneys overdrawn, they being allowed four dollars per day for services at special terms. The large amount overdrawn upon this account, however, is chiefly attributable to a decision of the Supreme Court in the case of P. H. Jewett, Esq., vs. H. E. Talbott, Auditor, made at its last November term, the effect of which was to make the docket fees of Prosecuting Attorneys payable out of the State Treasury. A large number of these claims have been paid, extending over a period of six years, and it is believed that but a few small claims yet remain unsettled.

THE STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

The Board met agreeably to law, and held its sittings in the Senate chamber. For the purpose of making its proceedings a matter of record, they are embodied in this report.

THE RE-APPRAISEMENT OF REAL ESTATE.

The increase in the value of real estate as compared with the appraisement of 1851, as shown by the reports to this office, is as follows:

Increase.....	$117,422,100

The total valuation of all taxables as returned in 1859, is.....	$435,367,862
In 1858 it was.....	318,204,964
Total increase.....	$117,162,898

The usual statements and statistical tables will be found in the Appendix. The April settlements of County Treasurers were met without an exception.

I have to thank the County Auditors for their promptness in making returns to this office. Not a single return is missing of the Abstract of Taxes levied, or of assessment of real and personal property.

FREE BANKING.

The annexed tables show that there are seventeen banks continuing to do business under the law of 1855, with at least fifty thousand dollars worth of securities at the market value in New York,—seven banks that are winding up and redeeming their circulation with securities remaining in this department, and seven which have withdrawn their securities and given bond to redeem their outstanding circulation, under the provisions of section 52 of the general banking law of 1855.

The seventeen banks under the law have a circulation of.....	$1,076,984
The seven winding up have a circulation of.....	54,411
Making an aggregate of circulation for which there is over ten per cent. excess of securities in this department, of.....	$1,131,395
To which add the circulation of the seven banks that have withdrawn their securities and given bond.....	28,801
<hr/>
Makes the total circulation.....	$1,160,196
<hr/>
The total circulation of the Free Banks on the 31st of October, 1858, as shown in my report to the Legislature, was.....	$1,233,880
Present circulation as above.....	1,160,196
Decrease .....	$73,684

Since my last report the securities of the Bank of Gosport have been sold in New York, and the circulating notes redeemed at par, except a small balance not yet presented for redemption. With this exception there has been no protest filed for non-payment of any of the notes of the Free Banks, and they continue to possess, as they deserve, the confidence of the business community.

AMOUNT and kind of Securities held by the Treasurer of State, on the 31st day of October, 1858, for the Free Banks of Indiana; also, of the Securities held by the Auditor of State for Banks which have not complied with the Law of 1855, and the outstanding Circulation of each.

Mr. Osborn, from the committee to inquire into the powers of the Board as to equalizing certain kinds of property, reported as follows:

Your committee to whom was referred the resolution to inquire as to whether the State Board of Equalization possesses the power to equalize the assessments on Rail roads and their property; also, to inquire whether the State Board has the power to equalize the several towns and cities in the State of Indiana, now beg leave to report that we have had under consideration the subject of equalization of rail roads within the State of Indiana, and we are of the opinion that, under the Statute, the State Board of Equalization has no power whatever to equalize the appraisements of rail roads in the State of Indiana.

Your committee find great inequality existing between the appraisements of the several railroads within the State, and would respectfully recommend that the Legislature, at its next session, take action for the relief and equalization of the several companies of this State.

TO GOV. A. P. WILLARD:

SIR:—I have the honor to transmit herewith the annual report of the Trustees of the Wabash & Erie Canal, for the year 1859, with the accompanying statements.

Very respectfully,

your obedient servant,

THOS. DOWLING,

Resident Trustee.

R E P O R T .

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, A. P. WILLARD,
Governor of the State of Indiana:

The Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal have to report a season of very limited business on the Canal. A succession of small crops had left the Wabash valley with little surplus grain for export. The tolls and water rents received in the Eastern Division, from Terre Haute to the State line, is $39,866 90, and in the Southern Division, from Terre Haute to Evansville, is $8,411 20.

There has been no disastrous floods this year, such as it became the duty of the Trustees to report for 1858. The outlay for repairs has therefore been less than in most years preceding, as will be seen by the statements.

The diversion of traffic from the Canal by parallel railroads, and the gradual diminution of Canal revenue therefrom, has been fully set forth in the Trustees' reports heretofore. As a revenue work, or as a security for the debt of the State, the Canal, under this competition, has come to be considered as having no material value; yet it is of great importance to the citizens of Indiana within its range, as a means of cheap transportation for their large agricultural products.

In their annual report of January 11th, 1859, the Trustees earnestly called the attention of the Legislature to this view of the subject, and invited the action of that body in any way they might deem proper, looking to the preservation of the work for the benefit of the country through which it runs, and in view of its duties and obligations to its bondholders, but the Legislature adjourned without consummating any measure of relief. Concurrently with the submission of their annual report to the General Assembly in January, 1859, the following orders were adopted by the Trustees:

"The Board having under consideration the question of duty in respect to the continuation of the officers of the trust, in connection with the uncertainty resting upon the future of the Canal, until the policy and action of the Legislature be made known, and the propriety, in the mean time, of incurring the least possible expense, and yet feeling it to be their duty to protect and preserve, with all care, the entire length of the Canal and its various structures, at the season often exposed to unusual hazard and danger, it is Ordered, That after the 15th of January instant, the services and compensation of all collectors be suspended for the time being, and that these gentlemen be requested to retain in their charge and care, under the direction of the Resident Trustee, all books and papers of their respective offices.

Ordered, That for the protection and preservation of the Canal, that it may be in condition to open in the Spring, if funds are provided, the several superintendents continue in charge of the Canal for the time being, at salaries respectively twenty per cent. less than now paid, and that they discharge all employees not strictly necessary to guard the Canal."

About the time of the adjournment of the General Assembly an injunction was granted at the suit of John Ferguson and other bondholders of Canal certificates, by the Hon. Justice McLean of the Supreme Court of the United States, against the Trustees, restraining them from using or applying any of the funds of the trust, other than the tolls and revenues of the Canal to the repairs of the same, or the maintenance of its navigation, which injunction is yet in full force, and the suit is yet pending in the Circuit Court of the United States for Indiana, awaiting the final decision of that Court. If the points presented in the case shall be decided in favor of the bondholders, as it seems most probable they will be, then the entire proceeds of the unsold lands will be applied to the payment of the bondholder's advance.

The Trustees were thus left, in the absence of action on the part of the General Assembly, and by the service of the injunction, destitute of any means on which they could rely for the maintenance of the navigation of the Canal for the present year; nor had they means even for its opening; nor could the Canal have been opened had it not been for the voluntary efforts of enterprising citizens of the State, who came forward and supplied the needful money for that purpose, agreeing to look to the revenues of the Canal for their reimbursement.

In this condition of affairs the Trustees were convinced that the maintenance of the Canal could only be secured by placing its working force and its transporting interest under the control of the business men along its route, who seem to be the only parties having a material pecuniary interest in the question. The active competition with the railroads can be more effectually carried on through such agents, possessing the character of a business league, with direct pecuniary interest, and having facilities for meeting the agents of the railroad on their own ground and according to their own mode. And although the Legislature had refused the grant of power to lease the Canal, requested by many citizens of the State, as well as by the Trustees, yet, without legislation, it was within their discretior to make contracts for the repairs, pledging therefor as compensation, the tolls and water rents—the contractors taking the risk of the sufficiency of the tolls and revenues for their compensation. They therefore invited offers upon this basis from citizens of the State, residing on the different portions of the Canal. As the result of this effort the working of the Canal has been let in three divisions, as follows:

1st, From Evansville to the Newberry Feeder Dam, 95 miles, for the term of four years. 2nd. From this Feeder to Terre Haute, 57 miles, for the term of two years: and 3d, From Terre Haute to the State line, 226 miles, for the term of four years, reserving in this, as in the contracts first named, the right of terminating in two years upon conditions specified, if the legislation of the State be such as to make it desirable. A small sum is agreed to be paid as an annual rent. Copies of these several contracts are herewith submitted.

The parties in each case are men of character and responsibility, and among them are those who control a large share of the produce trade of the Wabash Valley. The Canal structures are to be repaired or re-built under the direction of the Chief Engineer, appointed by the Trustees, affording a guarantee for the maintenance of the work unimpaired. The contractors are to respond for the Trustees in case of any and all damages for which they may be held liable under the laws of the State. The legal ownership and control of the Canal remains of course, with the Trustees. The tolls are collected by their authority and deposited to their credit, and subject only to their drafts for repairs, damages, &c. The entire net earnings remain on deposit as a reserve fund to meet any unexpected call for repairs until the close of the contract, when the balance is to be paid over to the contractors.

It is believed that no other policy could have been adopted so likely to secure the preservation of the Canal as a permanent channel of commerce. In this respect it is a measure of deep interest to the State.

It remains to be seen whether this plan will secure the maintenance of the Canal navigation. No parties were willing to take the entire line, and the Trustees could only effect the arrangement in divisions as above stated.

The statements show that the expenditures exceed the income on each division. It seems to be obviously unjust to and oppressive upon the citizens of the State, who have voluntarily assumed so great a burden to protect a public work of such importance to the aggregate wealth of the State, and in which all portions of the State are more or less interested. It is to be hoped that the General Assembly will, by some proper action, provide for their relief by charging the burden upon the general property, if not of the whole State, at least of the counties through which the Canal runs.

The payments on account of the Canal, exhibited in the statements, were for existing liabilities incurred before the injunction, and prior to the contracts for the maintenance of the Canal, above mentioned. There are other liabilities of the same character, which are in litigation and awaiting the final decision of the courts, as set forth in the Trustees' report to the last General Assembly. The expenses of the trust have since been materially reduced by the disposition made of the Canal.

Since the last report the Legislature have elected Richard Raleigh to serve as Trustee on the part of the State, in place of G. G. Barton, whose term, under your appointment, expired on the 18th of January, 1859, and the bondholders have re-elected Charles Butler and Thomas Dowling on their behalf; all of whom have been duly qualified.

CANAL LANDS.

During the year ending 30th November, 1859, the Trustees have sold of the lands in the Vincennes Land District, 18,541 acres and 83 hundredths of an acre, for the sum of $37,073 79, being a decrease from the sales of last year of 1,821.17 acres, and $3,663 88 in cash.

As the quantity of canal lands remaining unsold has now been greatly diminished, it is not probable that the annual sales in future will much exceed the amount received during the past year.

The Trustees append to this report a tabular statement of the lands sold during the year, showing the quantity of acres of each class, and the total receipts in cash for each month. Also, a statement showing the quantity of Lands unsold, the class, county where situated and total valuation, from which it will be seen that there are yet unsold 117,852.02 acres, valued at $240,993 10.

Since the 15th May, 1859, the Trustees have discontinued the land office for the sale of their lands, at Washington, in Daviess County, and removed the same to the office at Terre Haute. This was done as a measure of economy, the business having been transacted since the removal without any cost to the funds of the Trust; and as no complaint has been made on the part of the purchasers, it is believed that their convenience is quite as well suited as when the office was located at Washington.

The total receipts of the land office east of Tippecanoe for the year ending 30th November, 1859, were $3,369 09. The total receipts west of Tippecanoe for the same period were $6,954 92, of which $50 were in scrip

The total valuation of principal and interest and unsold lands, east and west of Tippecanoe, as nearly as can be computed, on 1st December, 1859, is as follows:

East of Tippecanoe.....	$20,407 14
West of Tippecanoe.....	35,736 33

For a detailed statement of the condition of the canal, and the cost of repairs of the whole line from the State line to Evansville, the Trustees refer to the report of the Chief Engineer, which is herewith transmitted.

The Trustees transmit tabular statements showing the amount received for tolls and water-rents at the various offices during each month of the year, and the tonnage and kind of shipments; also, statements exhibiting the sales and receipts at the land offices for each month of the year; also, a statement of the receipts and disbursements during the year ending the 1st of December, 1859, showing the amounts received and disbursed by the Trustees; also, by the contractors for each division.

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT.

OFFICE OF CHIEF ENGINEER, }
Terre Haute, Dec. 3, 1859. }

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES
of the Wabash and Erie Canal.

GENTLEMEN :—The adjournment of the Legislature of last winter without having taken any action authorizing, under legal sanction, the preservation of the canal through the associated efforts of the citizens, or in any manner affording aid toward this object, it seemed questionable, at one time, whether navigation could be opened after the winter suspension, the Trustees having no means applicable to repairs. In this state of uncertainty, a portion of the produce of the valley, usually taking the canal, passed out by the railroads. To secure the benefits of the canal, some liberal citizens of the upper Wabash, upon the suggestion of the Resident Trustee, promptly advanced cash means sufficient to make the spring repairs as far south as Terre Haute, amounting to $4,750, without other security than the future receipt of tolls, and the navigation was thus opened by the first of April to Lafayette, and soon afterwards from that point to Terre Haute.

The Trustees having subsequently made a contract with an association of business men interested in the preservation of the work, to perform the necessary repairs and maintain navigation for a period of four years, on that portion of the canal lying between the State line and Terre Haute, 226 miles, the repair forces, tools &c., were transferred to the company. Soon afterwards, I passed over the entire canal with the agent of the contracting company, A. P. Edgerton Esq., examining carefully every important mechanical structure, and directing the time and manner of their repair or renewal, as empowered in the repair contract, so as to secure the faithful and permanent preservation of the work, according to the plan and policy of the Trustees.

In addition to the current repairs and other work needful in keeping up navigation, the two Dam Abutments at Coal Creek, one at Sugar Creek, and one at the Delphi Dam have been rebuilt. The additional culvert—a wooden arch of 12 feet chord—required for the increased flood of Beckett's run on St. Joseph's feeder, has been put in. The new feeder culvert required to pass water into the canal from the Wabash river at Delphi, has also been constructed. This will facilitate the supply from this feeder to Perrysville, and lessen the inconvenience experienced from the frequent closing of the Guard lock by the passage of boats.

A small part of the damage caused by the great flood of June, 1858, embracing the Wea feeder and head gates, the Shawnee feeder and dam, and the foundation of the tumble at Delphi lock, were deferred until this season, as stated in my last report. This damage has been repaired by the contracting company. In rebuilding the Shawnee dam forty per cent. has been added to its length, to provide for the increased floods of the stream, and both abutments were made new. All these repairs have been made in a satisfactory manner.

Among the repairs to be made before the opening of navigation next spring on the Eastern Division, is the rebuilding of the large wooden arch culvert of 30 feet chord, over Cow creek at the village of Roanoke. This structure, though built of oak timber and not submerged, has answered well its purpose, requiring no repairs to the arch for a period of a quarter of a century, having been built in 1834. The preservation of the timber for so long a period results from its being partly wet by the leakage, and its protection from the alternations of rain and sunshine by the superincumbent canal embankment.

The past season has been, more than usual, exempt from damaging floods, and interruptions to navigation have therefore been less frequent than in many other seasons. The canal transportation has been very limited. For the first half of the season the country was unusually bare of grain or other produce for shipments. Since the wheat harvest, there has been an increase of freights, and from the very large crop of corn now being gathered throughout the Wabash valley, an active transportation, remunerative to the contractors, is confidently expected for next year.

The expenditures in the repair service during the year from Oct. 1st, 1858 to Oct. 1st, 1859, on the eastern division, between the State line and Terre Haute, amounts to $40,149 44, under the several heads as follows:

Expense of repairs boats, with their regular force.....	$11,647 56
Repairs of breaks in embankments, aqueducts, culverts, &c.....	7,377 64
Cleaning out canal in Spring.....	2,602 94

Rebuilding wooden locks, dams, abutments &c. ....	4,225 35
Adding new works and raising guard banks.....	1,445 26
Rebuilding and repairing bridges for State and county roads.....	1,637 66
Lock tending..... ..	3,732 55
Salary of Superintendents.....	6,480 48
Total .....	<hr/> $40,149 44
Of which there belongs to the general head of extraordinary repairs.....	7,308 27
Leaving as the cost of ordinary repairs.....	<hr/> $32,841 17

A statement showing the expenditure on each District, and the proportion, under the several appropriate heads, is appended and marked A. This statement gives $142 per mile, including the navigable feeders, as the average cost of ordinary repairs, and $175 as the average cost per mile, including ordinary and extraordinary repairs.

From Terre Haute to Evansville the canal has in like manner, and with equal liberality, been maintained through the enterprise of citizens along its route, receiving as compensation whatever of revenue has accrued. Two contracts upon this basis have been made by the Board, one embracing the division between Terre Haute and the White River Dam at Newbery, 59 miles, and the other the line thence to Evansville, 95 miles.

I have recently made a tour of inspection over the entire line south of Terre Haute, having reference particularly to the important and more exposed mechanical structures.

The aqueduct over the East fork of White River especially claimed attention. As this work was of difficult and expensive construction, so any indication of failure or decay involving its permanence demands prompt attention and remedy. The foot of one of the arches of the south span has slipped on the chord, and its hold is thus nearly lost. Two posts of the truss frames at this point are broken, and the chord in several places gives signs of yielding. The contracting company has been furnished with specifications of additional braces, iron stirrups, and other repairs and precautions necessary for the safety of the superstructure. With timely attention in these particulars, and with careful and discriminating oversight at all times, on the part of those in immediate charge, there is no reason to question the permanence of the structure. The Trunk will need entire renewal within the next twelve or eighteen months, but this, though an item of considerable expense, requires no peculiar engineering skill.

The Patoka aqueduct, the White River dam at Newbery, and other structures of the more important and hazardous class, have been examined, and such directions given in each case as their condition seemed to require. This dam is in excellent condition, and no doubt substantial and safe for many years, with the usual small repairs. The east abutment, however, which forms one wall of the new lock, requires immediate renewal, and at the same time the new lock must likewise be rebuilt, unless the contracting company shall present to the Trustees, from the counties along the river, above the Dam, a formal and satisfactory waiver of their legal rights. The lock is no longer safe. The flatboat navigation for which it was built, has so far declined, through the influence of better modes of conveyance, as to be of no material consequence. The effort which the citizens are now making to keep up the canal, should not be burthened with the useless expense of maintaining this lock.

The three reservoirs on the Southern Division are in good condition, and will no doubt continue to furnish the supply of water for which they were respectively designed.

An important repair has been made by the contractors, at the Eel River dam, and this structure appears to be in safe condition. The aqueduct over Honey creek has also been rebuilt.

At the Pigeon deep cut in Gibson County, which has been the main obstruction to navigation heretofore, a large expenditure has been made by the contractors in removing the deposit of earth, and in walling with timber to lessen the evil in future. An extension of this work of cleaning out and timber cribbing should be made so soon as their means will warrant it.

There has been expended on the Southern Division, between Terre Haute and Evansville, from Oct. 1st, 1858, to Oct. 1st, 1859, the total sum of $27,846 42, of which $20,977 68 may be called ordinary, and $6,868 74 extraordinary repairs. The total sum may be classified as follows:

Ordinary repairs, boat expenses.....	$11,525 87
Repair of breaches in embankments, aqueducts, culverts, &c.....	2,928 76
General cleaning out of canal.....	275 84
Lock tending.....	2,781 78
Wooden structures other than bridges.....	2,262 26
Raising guard banks and new structures.....	3,863 63
Rebuilding and repairing bridges.....	742 84
Superintendence.....	3,465 43
Total .....	$27,846 42

The proportions paid by each Superintendent and on each part of the line is shown by the annexed statement marked B. It gives an average per mile of $181.

Respectfully submitted:

J. L. WILLIAMS,

CONTRACT FOR EASTERN DIVISION—STATE LINE TO TERRE HAUTE.

WHEREAS, The Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal in the State of Indiana, by reason of railway competition, and other causes over which they had no control, have found that the revenues of the Canal are inadequate to pay the expenses of its maintenance, and that there are no means at their disposal to keep the same in repair, or in a condition for navigation, to which fact the attention of the Legislature was earnestly called at the recent session; AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the said Trustees, the interests of the people of the State require that the navigation should be maintained; AND WHEREAS, certain parties, residing along the line of said Canal between Terre Haute and the East line of the State of Indiana, deeply interested in preserving the navigation of said Canal, have volunteered to attempt, upon certain conditions, to preserve the same: Therefore, to furnish said parties with all the means and facilities in the control of said Trustees, they have entered into the following agreement:

This agreement between the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, in the State of Indiana, and Alfred P. Edgerton, Hugh McCulloch, Pliny Hoagland, O. Bird, R. W. Taylor, M. W. Hubbell, George L. Little, J. J. Comparet, D. F. Comparet, J. E. Hill and A. M. Orbison, and their associates, under the name and style of the Wabash and Erie Canal Company, in the State of Indiana, represented by A. P. Edgerton, specially authorized and empowered to execute the contract, by power of attorney (a copy of which is attached) witnesseth:

That the said Board of Trustees, for the purpose of preserving, as far as in their power, the navigation on that part of said Canal, from the lower lock in the city of Terre Haute, in the State of Indiana, to the Ohio State line, do hereby agree to set apart and apply to the use of said contractors, all the tolls and revenues to be derived from the above specified part of said Canal, except so far as hereinafter stated, with full power to collect and use the said tolls and revenues for the purposes hereinafter stated. In consideration whereof, the said contractors do hereby agree and bind themselves to undertake to maintain and preserve the navigation of that part of said Canal hereinbefore specified, from the first day of April, 1859, to the first day of January, 1863, and to keep and preserve the same in good order for use, with all its structures, within the limits specified, including locks, dams, aqueducts, culverts, waste weirs, embankments, and the bridges where the Canal crosses State and county roads (unless relieved by the State and counties from so doing) and all the works appurtenant to said Canal, and necessary for the said Board of Trustees heretofore to keep, maintain and preserve.

The repair and maintenance of the Canal shall include the employment of such boat forces as the contractors shall deem necessary; the cutting and removal of grass in the Canal so as to admit the free passage of water for navigation and hydraulic purposes; the repair and re-building of dams and dam abutments, locks, guard gates, aqueducts, waste weirs, culverts, and other necessary structures, as heretofore maintained by the Trustees, and the raising of embankments and other essential improvements by way of precaution, and other necessary work to keep that portion of the said Canal in as good a state of preservation, with reference to its present and future permanency, as the plans and reports of the Chief Engineer, made in the year 1859, have heretofore contemplated.

The collectors of tolls shall be appointed by the Resident Trustee, upon the recommendation of the contracting party hereto, the compensation, time and manner of payment to be such as shall be agreed upon by the said contractors and the collectors.

The revenues of the Canal herein referred to, shall be kept, as heretofore, in the branches of the Bank of the State of Indiana, at points most convenient to the collectors' offices, or with such other custodians as may be agreed upon by the parties hereto, and shall be deposited to the credit of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, weekly or monthly, (under the same restrictions as now established by the Board) for the use of the Eastern Division, being that portion embraced in this contract, and for the purposes herein stated, and no other.

The contractors shall appoint a general superintendent, whose compensation shall be fixed by them and paid as herein stated. His duties shall extend to a general supervision of the Canal, as the representative or agent of the contractors, and to the current and ordinary repair and maintenance of the Canal, and to a rigid watchfulness over the expenditures of the various divisions, and to such other matters as may be assigned him by the contractors.

The contractors shall also appoint, on consultation with the Chief Engineer, capable and efficient superintendents of divisions, who shall be commissioned by the Board of Trustees, as heretofore.

All payments for repairing or preventing breaks, repair or re-building of lock gates, for the regular boat forces, for cleaning out the Canal, for lock tending, watchmen, and all other regular or ordinary repair expenses, with the repair and renewal of bridges, and other structures, and all repairs made by division superintendents, shall be made by the Resident Trustee, from the funds collected and deposited as aforesaid, upon the certificate of the general superintendent of the contractors, every sixty days, dating from the first day of April, 1859; and whenever, from insufficiency of revenues, the contractors shall make advances for any of the purposes herein designated, the amount thereof shall be repaid to them from the revenues collected and deposited as aforesaid, upon the order or certificate of the general superintendent.

structures involving the safety and permanency of the Canal, future as well as present, shall be made and performed at the proper time; and shall not be delayed beyond the time when the Chief Engineer shall direct, and shall be built, in all cases, according to such plan as shall be prescribed by the Chief Engineer; conforming, in the general outline of plan, and having in view the same degree of permanence, in the materials used for all structures, as indicated in the published report heretofore made by the Chief Engineer in 1859; and such work, as far as the same can be judiciously performed, shall be by contract, and paid for from the said revenues, upon the certificate of the general superintendent of the contractors, with the approval of the Chief Engineer.

All such repairs and renewals of structures shall receive the energetic and vigilant supervision of the contractors or their superintendents, the same as other repairs, so that this work may be done in the proper season, and risk of floods avoided.

The Trustees shall grant, for the use of the contractors, the repair boats, furniture, horses and mules, now on said portion of said Canal, or belonging thereto, the same to be appraised at their fair cash value by some proper persons; one to be appointed by each of the parties hereto. When this contract shall expire, or be terminated for any cause, the said contractors shall replace the same with like property of equal value, or pay the appraisement in cash at their option.

A separate account shall be kept by said Trustees, in their office at Terre Haute, of the receipts and disbursements on each division of the Canal, and the monies received thereon, whether by subscription, tolls, or revenues, shall be applied to the service of that particular division, and shall be held in trust for the said contractors, parties hereto, for the use of this division, and drawn out and used only by the Trustees for the purposes and on the conditions stated in this agreement. As the contractors will have the power, under this contract, to control expenditures and to govern expenses for the current and ordinary repairs, their superintendents will be required to furnish vouchers, in duplicate, at the office at Terre Haute, as at present, for all sums paid out by them on the certificate or order of their general superintendent, as aforesaid.

The contractors, under this agreement, shall be liable for damages and neglect to the extent for which said Trustees may be liable, under the laws of the State, and for no other, either to said Trustees or otherwise, and the said damages shall be paid out of the revenues of said Canal, after deducting the charges above specified and fixed thereon by this agreement, and the liability for such damages shall be a lien upon such portion of said revenues, and not a charge upon said contractors; it being also an express understanding that the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal shall not be subject to any call for such damages during the continuance of this agreement, but that all such damages shall be borne by said canal tolls and revenues, and paid out as the moneys collected from and belonging to this division.

The rates of toll, from time to time, shall be established with the object of increasing the business of the Canal and securing therefrom the largest amount of Canal revenues. The toll sheet, for through freight, requiring arrangement and negotiation with the authorities of the State of Ohio, shall be arranged and established by the Trustees, with the advice and approval, and based upon the experience and actual observation of trade, of the contractors or their superintendents or agents, and the toll upon local traffic will be established at such rates and varied at such times as may be desired by the contracting parties hereto.

Should the Legislature of Indiana make it necessary to return the Canal into the control and management of the Trustees before the expiration of this contract, the Trustees shall pay the contractors all such sums as may have been expended in rebuilding permanent structures at their fair cash value, on the appraisement of two judicious persons, one to be selected by each party to the contract. The word "permanent" shall be taken to mean and describe all dams, dam abutments, aqueducts, piers and abutments, locks, culverts, waste wiers, and all bridges of every description.

It is expressly understood that any and all moneys arising from the tolls and revenues of that portion of the Canal embraced by this contract, which have not been drawn for and applied to the use and purposes designated hereby, at the end of every year shall belong to the contractors, parties hereto, and shall be placed at interest or invested by consent of the parties hereto, in the name of the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, for the use of the contractors, and at the end or other termination of the contract, shall be paid over by the Trustees, parties hereto, to the said contractors, or their duly authorized agent or attorney: Provided, however, That all such monies thus invested shall be subject to the service of this division, if the same, or any portion of them, should be required to fulfil any of the stipulations of this contract.

Before the delivery of the boats, furniture, tools, horses, mules &c., into the possession of the contractors, a good and sufficient bond shall be delivered to the Trustees for the return of said property, its equivalent in kind or value, at the expiration or sooner termination, for any cause, of this contract. The Trustees shall grant for the use of the contractors, all timber, lumber, stone and other materials collected for repairs on that part of said canal embraced in this contract, on the condition that the same shall be used without delay in the repairs of the structures for which these materials were intended; and they shall and do hereby grant and transfer to said contractors, for their use during the continuance of this agreement, all the rights and interest of said Trustees in the stone quarries owned by or under the control of said Trustees, with all the appurtenances belonging thereto, and they shall and do hereby grant for the use of said contractors, for the purposes of this contract, the privilege of taking timber from any lands owned or controlled by the said Trustees.

The compensation of the following officers shall be paid out of the tolls and revenues of said canal east of Terre Haute, embraced in this agreement, namely: The General Superintendent of the contractors, and the contingent expenses of his office, and such other expenses as shall be allowed by the contractors; the Collectors, Division Superintendents, Lock Tenders, and such other agent or agents as may be appointed by the contractors, upon the certificate of the General Superintendent, and the following specific sums for the offices of the Trust: President of the Board, (or non-resident Trustee,) $1,500; Resident Trustee, $1,500; State Trustee, $1,200; Chief Engineer, $1,000; Clerk of Board at Terre Haute, $750; and all necessary blank books, clearances for collectors, and blanks for Superintendents, as the same may be wanted; which said salaries and expenses shall be paid quarterly, as heretofore.

There shall be no interferences or change, on the part of the Contractors, with existing leases of water power by the Trustees, and at all times when the streams from which the canal derives water will admit of it, it shall be supplied as the Trustees are now bound to supply it, and the water rents shall be charged and collected by the collectors as heretofore.

If in case of a break in the canal, or other casualty, the contractors do not immediately proceed to repair the same, or if in the opinion of the Chief Engineer they shall unreasonably or unnecessarily neglect to clean out the canal, or shall neglect to repair any dam, or feeder, or other work necessary to the free and useful navigation of the canal, or shall permit any neglect so as to defeat the intention of this contract, the Chief Engineer shall certify the fact to the Board of Trustees, furnishing the contractors with a copy of such certificate; and after a hearing of the case, upon reasonable notice to the contractors, as to time and place, if the object of this contract be defeated by the neglect or conduct of the contractors, the Board of Trustees may declare this contract abandoned, and immediately proceed to contract with other parties, or to make such other arrangements as, in their judgement, may be best for the maintenance of the canal.

This contract, or any interest in the same, shall not be assigned to any person or persons whomsoever, by any or all of the parties hereto, without the written consent of the Resident Trustee, acting for the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal.

It is expressly understood and agreed between the parties to this contract, that no debt or obligation shall be created against this Division of the canal, during the existence of the present contract, and the Trustees will not be responsible, in any manner, for any losses to said contractors by reason of this undertaking, the said contractors agreeing to take and receive the net tolls and revenues, as above, as a full compensation therefor.

From the first tolls received since the opening of navigation, on the first day of April, 1859, there shall be retained by the Trustees a sum sufficient to refund the advances made by certain citizens for the opening of the canal in the spring of 1859, viz: $5,000 or $5,800.

Where "tolls and revenues" are mentioned in this contract, it shall not include any canal lands, or moneys due, or to grow due, for any lands heretofore sold by the Trustees.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The parties above named have hereunto signed their names and affixed their seals, and the Resident Trustee has signed his name and affixed the seal of the Board of Trustees, this 13th day of May, 1859.

A. M. ORBISON,

Per ALFRED P. EDGERTON, their att'y.

We the undersigned do hereby agree to associate ourselves together as partners, under the name, style and firm of the "Wabash and Erie Canal Company," in the State of Indiana, to keep up and maintain the Wabash and Erie Canal in said State, from the lower lock in the city of Terre Haute, to the east line of the State of Indiana, in pursuance of and in accordance with the terms of a contract entered into between the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal in the State of Indiana, and ourselves, which contract is in writing, and made a part hereof, and to which reference is made to ascertain the terms thereof; and for the purpose of effecting the objects therein provided for, we agree to subscribe and advance the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or such sums as may be necessary to fully secure the objects of said copartnership, in shares of one hundred dollars; each subscriber to pay the proportion of said sum of fifty thousand dollars, for which he may subscribe, in accordance with the number of shares taken by him; and in the same proportion each subscriber is to share in the profits and losses of said adventure, and of the capital stock subscribed and paid, when divided after said enterprise shall be determined and ended. Each subscriber is to execute his promissory note for the amount subscribed, payable on demand, with personal security to the satisfaction of the managing partners or agents, to be chosen and elected as hereinafter provided, which shall be paid from time to time, as the same may be called for by said managing partners; and no profit shall be divided to any subscriber delinquent upon any installment called for and payable, until the delinquency is removed.

It is further understood that all donations or subscriptions which may hereafter be made by persons not parties hereto, for the purpose of securing the undersigned against loss in said enterprise, shall enure to our benefit, to the same proportion to each as is above designated.

And we do further agree that the following named persons of our number shall be the managing partners of our said firm, a majority of whom shall, in all cases, have power to act, to-wit: Alfred P. Edgerton, Hugh McCulloch and Pliny Hoagland; and annually hereafter, during the continuance of this co-partnership, five of our number shall be elected in the manner herein prescribed, as the managing partners of our said firm, who with those now chosen shall have full power and authority to do all acts and things which we together might do in regard to any and all business of our said firm, as fully and completely as if we were personally present and acting in reference thereto; and they shall thus have power and authority to act until they shall be superseded by us, or their authority be revoked as herein agreed. In the election of such managing partners and in determining any other matter or thing connected with our said firm, each member thereof shall be entitled to as many votes as he has shares in the capital stock, and the power and interest of each member shall be limited and controlled by the amount of his stock therein, in the manner herein provided. In all cases the majority of the stock shall control the acts of the co-partnership.

The co-partnership shall not be dissolved by the death of one or more of the co-partners, but shall continue between the survivors, and the interest of the deceased shall remain until withdrawn by his legal representative; and if such representative elect to withdraw such interest, the surviving partners shall have a preference and priority of right in the purchase of such interest at its fair value.

Alfred P. Edgerton, one of the managing partners above named, is hereby selected and chosen as a "General Superintendent," and he shall have full power and authority to represent and to use the name of our said co-partnership, and to bind it in all matters connected with and appertaining to the business thereof: and said General Superintendent is specially authorized and empowered to execute this contract with the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal and ourselves, as contemplated by these articles of co-partnership.

The managing partners of our said firm are hereby authorized to obtain such increase of its stock by further subscription as they may deem advantageous to the interests thereof, and all persons hereafter becoming subscribers and parties hereto shall be bound by these articles of co-partnership, and by our previous and subsequent action.

Meetings of the members of our firm shall be held at such time and places as may be designated by the managing parties.

Dated May, 1859.

CONTRACT FOR MIDDLE DIVISION—TERRE HAUTE TO POINT COMMERCE.

This article witnesseth that the following named persons, viz: Chauncey Rose, Wm. D. Griswold, J. Haney and Jas. H. Turner of Vigo county; W. C. Smydth and J. H. Axton of Greene county, and A. T. Lansing, of Clay county, and all of the State of Indiana, do hereby agree and contract with the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, that for the purpose of preserving the navigation of that part of the line thereof from Terre Haute (commencing at the lower lock and inclusive thereof) to Newberry, in the county of Greene, and inclusive of the White river dam and locks at that place, and for the consideration that the said Board of Trustees do agree to give to them, the said associates, the use and benefit of all the tolls of the above specified part of said Canal, for the period hereinafter named, they, the said associates, will and hereby do undertake to maintain and preserve the navigation of the part of said Canal specified, for the period of two years from the date of this article, and do agree to keep, maintain and preserve, in reasonable good order and condition for use, all its structures within the limits specified, including locks, dams, aqueducts, reservoirs, bridges, (where the Canal crosses State and county roads) and all other works appurtenant to and necessary heretofore, for the said Board of Trustees to keep, maintain and preserve, except the towing path along the pool of White river, above the Newberry dam.

The collectors of tolls to be nominated by the said associates, but subject to the approval of the said Board, and the compensation to them and all other officers and persons employed by them on work under this contract, shall be fixed by the said associates. In addition to the obligation above assumed and specified, the said associates agree to pay to the said Board of Trustees the sum of five hundred dollars per annum, for the payment of certain clerk hire and office expenses necessary in keeping proper accounts in the general office of the Trust with the said associates in the matter of this contract.

The revenues of the portion of the Canal specified, shall be kept in the Branch Bank at Terre Haute, and shall be deposited to the credit of the said Board of Trustees monthly, or as often as required, as a special account, and shall be paid out by the Resident Trustee on the certificate of the superintendent or officer of the said associates having general charge, and who shall be required to furnish vouchers for all such payments. These payments shall be made every sixty days, as at present.

The Trustees grant for the use of the said associates, the repair boats, furniture, horses and mules, and other tools and implements connected with the repair of the Canal, belonging to that portion of the Canal specified, the same to be appraised by two competent persons, to be mutually agreed upon, and when the contract shall expire, shall be replaced by the said associates with like property of equal value, or paid for at their appraisement.

The Chief Engineer will be required to visit that portion of the Canal at stated periods on behalf of the Trustees, and he shall examine the structures and works appertaining to that division, and suggest such timely repairs as he may deem essential to the preservation of that portion of the Canal.

The Trustees reserve the right to control the surplus water on this division for the use of the fourteen mile level, beginning at the Clinton lock, and to use the same at all times for the proper supply of that portion of the Wabash and Erie Canal.

The contractors and their associates shall at all times be subject to the payment of damages which may arise from neglect or inattention to the embankments, or for the destruction of crops, or injury to land, so far as the laws of the State now subject the Board of Trustees to the payment of such damages, and these damages shall be paid out of the revenues or other funds applicable to this division.

The Board of Trustees consent and agree with the said associates that the local toll sheet shall be subject to such modifications as the said associates may suggest.

The Trustees shall grant for the use of said associates, all timber, lumber and other materials collected for repairs on that division, on the condition that the same shall be used without delay in the repair of the structures for which these materials were designed.

Should any great calamity by flood occur, by which the Canal should be so seriously damaged as to prevent the said associates from repairing the same with their means, present or prospective, the Trustees will not require any effort at repairs beyond the proceeds of the subscribed means.

It is expressly understood that neither the parties hereto nor any subscriber towards sustaining this division of the Canal, in any of the subscription lists, is to be liable to pay more than the amount by them or him subscribed; and it is further expressly understood, that no debt, obligation, or other liability shall be created against this division of the Canal during the existence of the present contract, and the Trustees will not be responsible, in any manner, for any losses to said contractors by reason of this undertaking, the said contractors agreeing to take and receive the net tolls, as above, as a full compensation therefor.

This contract, or any interest in the same, shall not be assigned by the contractors parties to the contract, without the written assent of the Resident Trustee, acting or the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal.

Witness the hands and seals of the parties, this 20th
 { L. S. } day of May, A. D., 1859, at Terre Haute.

CONTRACT FOR SOUTHERN DIVISION—NEWBERY TO EVANSVILLE.

This article witnesseth that the following named persons, viz: Ziba H. Cook and Marvin A. Lawrence, of Vanderburgh County, Goodlet Morgan, of Pike County, Jacob H. Miller, of Warrick County, and Matthew L. Brett, of Daviess County, and all of the State of Indiana, do hereby contract and agree with the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, that for the purpose of preserving navigation on that part of the line thereof from Evansville to Newbery, and for the consideration that the said Board of Trustees do agree to give to the said associates, the use and benefit of all the net tolls, (and water rents, at and near Evansville, and such water as may be hereafter leased, or used by pipes or otherwise,) of the above specified part of said canal, after first paying certain salaries, damages and other expenses hereinafter named, for the period to be specified, that they, the said associates, will and do undertake to maintain and preserve the navigation of the part of said canal specified, for the period of four years from the date of this article, and do agree to keep, maintain, and preserve in good order and condition for use, all its structures within the limits specified, including locks, dams, aqueducts, culverts, waste weirs, reservoirs, &c., and also the bridges when the canal crosses State and County roads, (unless relieved by the State or County from doing so,) and all other works appurtenant thereto and necessary heretofore for the said Board of Trustees to keep, maintain and preserve the same.

The repairs and maintenance of the canal shall include the regular boat forces, (with such modifications as experience may suggest,) the cutting and removal of grass, the repair and rebuilding of dams and dam abutments, locks, guard gates, aqueducts, waste weirs, culverts, and other canal structures of every description, as heretofore maintained by the Trustees, and the raising of embankments, and other essential improvements by way of precaution, and other necessary work to make and keep that portion of the canal in as good state of preservation, with reference to its present and future permanency, as the plans and reports of the Resident Engineer have heretofore contemplated.

The revenues of the canal shall be kept, as heretofore, in the Branch of the Bank of the State, at points most convenient to the collectors' offices, and shall be deposited to the credit of the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, for the use of the Evansville Division, weekly or monthly, under the same restrictions as are now established by the Board.

All payments for repairing or preventing breaks, repair or rebuilding of lock gates, for the regular boat force, grass cutting, for cleaning out the canal, for lock tending, watchmen, and all other regular and ordinary repair expenses, with the repair and renewal of bridges, shall be made by the Resident Trustee, on the certificate of the Division Superintendent. These payments for the boat forces and other repairs, shall be made every sixty days, to date from the first of April, 1859.

The repair and rebuilding of dams, dam abutments, guard gates, locks, aqueducts, culverts and waste weirs, and all other structures involving the safety and permanency of the canal, future as well as present, shall be made and performed at such time, and according to such plan, as shall be prescribed by the Chief Engineer, conforming in general outline of plan, and having in view the same degree of permanence in the material used for all structures, as indicated in the published reports heretofore made by the Resident Engineer, and such work, as far as the same can be judiciously performed by contract, shall be done in this manner, and paid for on the certificate of said Superintendents, at the request of the Engineer. All such repairs and renewal of structures shall receive the energetic and vigilant supervision of the associates or their Superintendents, the same as other repairs, so that this work may be done in the proper season, and the risk of floods avoided.

The collectors of tolls shall be designated by the contractors or associates, and recommended to the Resident Trustee, with the amount of compensation to be paid to each, and the payments of the salaries shall be made in the manner heretofore done, viz: on the 1st of January, April, July and October.

It being highly important that good and capable Superintendents of Division should be appointed by the associates, the Board of Trustees reserve the right of approval, on consultation with the Chief Engineer, and the amount of their compensation shall be fixed also in the same manner, by the same parties. These Superintendents shall furnish an abstract of repairs every sixty days, which abstract shall be approved by the associates, or some one of them acting as President of the Associates, who shall certify it to the Trustees for payment, if found correct.

The only charge to which the above portion of the canal shall be subjected for general expenses of the Trust, will be the payment of the sum of five hundred dollars per annum, which sum shall be applied, out of the tolls, to the payment of a competent clerk, whose duty it shall be to keep a regular account of the receipts and disbursements of this division.

The Trustees shall grant for the use of the associates, the repair boats, furniture, horses and mules now on the said portion of the canal, the same to be appraised by some proper persons, one to be appointed by each party, at their fair cash value. When this contract shall expire, or be terminated for any cause, the said contractors or associates shall replace the same with like property of equal value, or pay the appraisement in cash, at their option.

A separate account shall be kept in the office at Terre Haute, of the receipts and disbursements on each division of the canal, and the monies so received, whether by subscription or tolls, shall be applied to the service of that particular division and no other. As the associates will have power to control expenditures and govern expenses for the current and ordinary repairs, their Superintendent will be required to furnish vouchers in duplicate, to the office at Terre Haute, as at present, for all sums paid out on their certificates, duly certified by the President, as aforesaid.

The damages for which the Trustees are liable, under the laws of the State, by reason of breaks in the canal, or for taking materials to repair breaks, or for the overflow of lands, or for the interference of rights of water power leases, or neglect to rebuild or repair bridges, or for other like neglect, shall be a lien to that extent on said revenues, the express understanding being that the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal shall not be subject to any call for such damages during the existence of this contract, but they shall be borne by the canal tolls exclusively, and paid out of its revenues.

It is understood that any agreement herein contained shall not bind any subscriber further than the amount of his subscription, nor subject any contractor, subscriber or manager to any other responsibility than the Trustees of the canal have been subjected to, in regard to damages or contracts, hereby limiting the liabilities of the managers to the faithful application of the funds placed at their disposal, and the proper performance of the duties of their undertaking, as managers of the repairs of said canal.

The rate of tolls from time to time shall be established with the aim of securing from the business of the canal the largest annual revenues. The toll sheet for through traffic requiring negotiation and agreement with the authorities of Ohio, will be arranged by the Trustees, but in these rates the Trustees will pay due respect to the opinion of the contracting parties or their Superintendents, based upon their actual observation of the trade. The tolls upon all local traffic will be established at such rates as may be desired by said associates.

Should the Trustees desire to annul this contract before the expiration of the full term of four years, they may do so on the payment of the sum which may be found due to the contractors or associates, for advances made over and above the revenues derived from the tolls and water rents at and near Evansville, but it is expressly understood that no debt or obligation shall be created against this division of the canal, during the existence of this contract, and the Trustees will not be responsible, in any manner, for any losses which may occur to said associates by reason of this undertaking, they hereby agreeing to take the net tolls as a full compensation therefor.

It is expressly understood, however, that any moneys which may remain on hand to the credit of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, for the use of the Evansville Division, after paying all rightful charges against it, at the expiration of this lease, shall belong to the associates for the use of the subscribers, and the sum shall be handed over by check to said managers.

Before the delivery of the boats, furniture, tools, horses, mules, &c., into the possession of the contractors, a good and sufficient bond shall be delivered to the Trustees for the return of said property, its equivalent in kind or value, on the expiration, or termination, for any cause, of this lease.

The Trustees shall grant for the use of the contractors, all timber, lumber and other materials collected for repairs on that division, on the condition that the same shall be used without delay in the repair of the structures for which these materials were designed.

No objection shall be made by the Trustees to the substitution of others in lieu of the present managers, or any of them, or of their successors, such substitution or succession being made in good faith, and of substantial men, in which case the liability of the outgoing manager for the further performance of duty shall cease.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The parties first above named have hereunto set their hands and seals, and the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, through Richard Raleigh, State Trustee, and Thomas Dowling, Resident Trustee, have set their hands and affixed the seal of the said Board of Trustees, at Terre Haute, this twenty sixth day of March, 1859.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To His Excellency, GOVERNOR A. P. WILLARD:

The present Board of Trustees of the Indiana Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb became connected therewith by Executive appointment, on the second day of April last, the number of Trustees having been reduced from six to three, by an act of the last General Assembly; and now, in conformity with law, this, the sixteenth annual report of the condition of the Institution is respectfully offered.

As the expenditures during the year just closed were partly under the control of our predecessors in office, it is but just to state that all acts of theirs, so far as they have come to the knowledge of the present Board, are fully endorsed. The last Legislature wisely provided that the asylum buildings should be insured against the dangers of fire, and the Trustees, early in April, took out policies of insurance for the sum of forty thousand dollars, divided between seven different companies, all of which are believed to be perfectly reliable. About the same time, in compliance with an act passed by the Legislature in 1855, a satisfactory arrangement was entered into with the Indianapolis Gas and Coke Company, for the extension of their main pipes to the Institution at a cost to us of but seventeen hundred dollars, but little more than one-third of what the gas company actually paid out for the improvement. The steady, strong light now furnished is of immense advantage to the pupils, receiving as they do, most of their information through the eye alone; yet an unnecessary consumption of gas is guarded against by having every burner in the Institution under immediate control at the office.

It is gratifying to be able to say that the shops, intended as they are merely for educating the boys to useful trades, are now not only self-supporting but to a certain extent profitable.

The Trustees cannot here avoid alluding to the great necessity which exists for other and better means of heating the different apartments of the Asylum. The miserable old furnaces now in use are absolutely dangerous, and when the large sum which is annually paid for keeping them in decent repair, is considered, in connection with the extra amount required for insurance, together with what might be saved in the way of fuel, it is not difficult to believe that the savings would be sufficiently large in the course of a few years to pay the first cost of a suitable steam heating apparatus, and it is earnestly hoped that this matter will receive careful attention when the Legislature again convenes. The elaborate report of the Superintendent, which is hereto appended, shows so clearly the condition of the finances, the amount of expenditures made during the year, and for what, and also so completely presents other important matters, that a repetition of them here is considered unnecessary. We therefore close this brief report, humbly trusting that Divine Providence will continue to guard the inmates of the Institution under our management.

W. H. TALBOTT,
JOHN M. KITCHEN,
THOS. W. WOOLLEN.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees :

GENTLEMEN :—It again becomes my duty to present to you the history of the operations of another year of the Institution, the control of which has been entrusted by the State to your care. From the nature of the case there must be great uniformity in the successive annual reports of an establishment like this, the general policy of which is so well settled and so strictly adhered to from year to year. Yet since not only the parents and friends of those who are pupils are interested in the success and management of the enterprise, but also every tax payer in the State, it is to be hoped there may be found in the details concerning the number, classification, progress and health of the pupils, the condition of the buildings, shops and farm, and in the receipts and disbursements of the funds, importance enough to secure for the brief summary of facts which follows a careful consideration.

We have the pleasure of recording the continued prosperity of the Institution. In no former period has it been in a more flourishing condition—good health, without which all other earthly blessings are of comparatively small value, has been granted by a kind and beneficent Providence, to all the inmates of the establishment. It is certainly remarkable and worthy of devout thanksgiving, that in a household so large as ours, numbering as it has from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and seventy persons, but a single instance of mortality has occurred among its officers and pupils within the last three years. The instance alluded to was that of a young man, Mahlon C. Roberts, of Wabash county in this State, who died of chronic epilepsy on the 30th day of January, 1859. When he was first admitted as a pupil, in the fall of 1851, his health was bad, and it was doubted whether he could be benefited very much by instruction; but it was hoped he might outgrow his infirmity. At first he made considerable progress in his studies and at times gave flattering hopes of entire recovery. But as he grew older the disease manifested itself more plainly until it began to impair seriously both his mental and physical constitution, and we were compelled to discharge him from the school. After an absence of several years he returned to the Institution, with his health apparently much improved, and last fall he was re-admitted as a pupil. But the anticipations of his teachers and the fond hopes of friends were soon blasted; in a few weeks his old enemy returned and attacked him with renewed violence, which ended in death on the day above mentioned. In the absence of relatives his mortal remains were committed, in the faith of the gospel, to the grave in the Asylum burying grounds, to rest until the resurrection morn.

Those in possession of all their senses and brought up in daily familiarity with the great truths of revelation, can hardly realize the fact that the uneducated deaf and dumb, by their misfortune, are excluded wholly from this kind of knowledge. They may ask, whence came this world? Whence its inhabitants? "If a man die, shall he live again?" and a thousand other such questions; but they can receive no answer. Shut up within the narrow circle of vision and experience they can have no conception beyond the sensuous and the present, of creation, life, death and eternity. Therefore the believer in Christianity, standing beside the death-bed of a deaf mute, can appreciate, as he can in no other circumstances, the great value of that system of instruction which has been devised for this class of persons, by which access to the gospel of the Son of God is opened to them, a heaven of happiness made known, life and immortality brought to light, and the cross revealed, to light up the gloom of the grave, and dispel the dark clouds which encompass the land of the hereafter.

It was certainly a source of great consolation to the friends of our late pupil to know that he had been taught the fundamental truths of the gospel, and to entertain the hope that he had embraced the Saviour, and was translated to the mansions of the blessed.

With the exception of the case above mentioned very few of the pupils have been sick, and those who have been indisposed have in all cases suffered slightly, and for a short time. The whole regimen of the pupils as to food and clothing, study and labor, recreation and rest, is established with reference to the promotion of health; and the result for the year has been in a high degree favorable.

Twenty-five new pupils were admitted during the last term, which is about the average number received annually for several years past. From the beginning to the present time there have been under instruction in all four hundred and twenty-one pupils. There were matriculated

In the year 1844 .....	16 pupils.
In the year 1845 .....	22 pupils.
In the year 1846 .....	23 pupils.
In the year 1847 .....	35 pupils.
In the year 1848 .....	23 pupils.

The number discharged annually for the last seven or eight years has been somewhat less than the number received. Hence there has been a gradual increase of pupils in the school from year to year, about commensurate with the increase of the population of the State. In 1852 there were one hundred and twenty pupils in attendance. Last year there were one hundred and forty-seven present, but at the close of the term thirty-four were discharged; a number much larger than ever before was dismissed in one year. The cause of this was the irregularity consequent upon the disorganization produced by the suspension of the school in 1857, by which we lost one of our teachers and were compelled to make a new classification of the pupils, which resulted in so many being discharged at the close of last session. Before the suspension of the school we usually had from six to eight pupils from other States, who paid for board and instruction. But now all the surrounding States have institutions of their own, conducted on the same liberal principles that ours is, and of course all such have been withdrawn. We now have no pupils from other States, nor can we expect many hereafter. Of the former pupils there have been six from Tennessee, four from Ohio, two from each of the States of Iowa, Michigan, Kentucky, Arkansas and California, and one each from Illinois, Alabama and Louisiana.

Although, from the causes above mentioned, we cannot expect as many pupils by eight or ten this year as we had last, yet Indiana has, in proportion to her population, a greater number of beneficiaries of this class than is supported by any one of the Eastern or Middle States, as will appear from the following table, made up from the last census and the most recently published reports of the institutions of the kind patronized by these several States:

Were we to extend the calculation to the States of the South and West, nearly all of which have provided for the education of their deaf and dumb, the comparison would show, in most cases, a result still more favorable to our State.

But whilst the facts in the case clearly warrant the conclusion that the ratio of pupils under instruction in this State is greater than that in any other of the States, yet we are well aware that here as well as elsewhere, there is a large number who ought to be in the Institution who have not yet availed themselves of its advantages. This is more especially true in our State with respect to the female portion of this class. The census shows the sexes in number to be nearly equal, but whilst there have been in attendance for several years past from eighty to ninety males, there have been only from fifty to sixty females. We are satisfied there are from twenty-five to thirty girls entitled to admission under the rules, who are kept at home in ignorance by their parents. To such we most earnestly say, that whether it be from a want of appreciation of the importance of educating your daughters, or from a fear of evil in sending them from home, you do wrong in keeping them from the Institution. No amount of care you can give them, no amount of wealth you can bestow upon them, no amount of love you can lavish upon them, can compensate for the neglect of this duty. The State has made ample provision for all within her borders between the ages of ten and twenty-one. Admission is free. This is the place for your children. You cannot instruct them. Here they can be well educated. Therefore we urge upon all our fellow citizens, who have deaf and dumb children of the proper age, to send them to the Institution without unnecessary delay.

In the appendix to the report will be found a list of the names of all the pupils who have been under instruction during the year, including both those discharged at the close of last term and those received for the first time this session.

Since the last report was made several changes have occurred among the officers and teachers of the Institution.

Miss Cornelia Trask, who had been a faithful and efficient teacher for three years, resigned at the close of last term to engage in the same employment in connection with the Illinois Institution for the deaf and dumb. The vacancy thus created has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Wm. S. Marshall, of Jeffersonville, in this State, and a recent graduate of Asbury University. Mr. M. has no experience in the art of instructing the deaf and dumb. He enters upon the business as a learner. If on trial he should succeed, as we have every reason to believe he will, he purposes to pursue the occupation as a profession. The labor of training new teachers is considerable, and in selecting persons for this business, regard should be had not only to their physical, mental and moral adaptation to the occupation, but also to their views and purposes in respect to adopting it as a permanent employment. No one should in any case be elected to this office who intends to use it simply as a means of promotion to some other position in life. In this instance great pains have been taken in the selection, and it is believed that the person who has been chosen, will, in time, prove himself an efficient, zealous and devoted teacher.

Miss L. L. Gillett, who for four years past has filled with much zeal and ability the responsible office of Matron of the Institution, also resigned and left at the end of the vacation, very much to the regret of all the members of the household. Fortunately for the Institution the inconveniences of such a change were obviated by securing for the place the services of Miss Julia A. Taylor, who for several years past has discharged acceptably the duties of Assistant Matron, and who, by her knowledge of signs and familiarity with the responsibilities and duties of the office, was able at once to enter upon their discharge understandingly and efficiently. The place made vacant by the promotion of Miss Taylor has been filled by the appointment of Miss L. B. Paige, of Knightstown, in Indiana, a lady of intelligence and experience in the management of domestic matters. She commenced the performance of her official duties the first of October last, and gives good promise of becoming an efficient assistant in the department assigned her.

Since the date of the last report a very important change has taken place in the mode of disbursing the funds. By the statute of 1852, for the government of the Institution, the responsibility of the management of the finances was taken out of the hands of the Trustees and placed upon the Superintendent and the officers of State. By the act of the Legislature, passed last winter, this duty was re-imposed upon the Board, where, as we have always thought, the responsibility properly belongs. Under the former law, money was drawn from the treasury on the estimates of the Steward and Superintendent, payments made as occasion required, and the accounts at the end of the quarter examined by the Auditor of State. Under the new law the Trustees order all purchases, audit all accounts, and draw all warrants on the Treasury. This change took place when the new law went into effect, and we are satisfied that the plan is a great improvement over the old method. The disbursements of the year have been made partly under the old and partly under the new law: as the business however, has been mainly transacted under the former, we conform to it in making out that part of our report, embracing the receipts and disbursements of the period under review.

In managing the financial affairs of the Institution, so far as have been devolved upon us, we have heretofore, as we shall endeavor hereafter to practice the most rigid economy consistent with the best interests of the cause. How far success in this respect has crowned the labors of the last year, is submitted to the Board and the public to judge.

The estimates for current expenses laid before the Legislature and appropriated by that body, have proved sufficient for the purpose, and to enable us to repay the amount due to the gas fund. In the year 1855 the Legislature appropriated $2,500 for the purpose of lighting the Institution with gas. Soon after $640 of this money were drawn from the treasury, and used in paying for and putting up the necessary fittings and fixtures in the buildings preparatory to the introduction of gas from the city works. But after much delay and repeated efforts it was found that a satisfactory arrangement could not be made with the Gas Company; that the company was not then in a condition to extend the pipes to the Institution and to furnish the necessary supply of gas. Failing in this effort, and from want of something more promising, the Board, on the recommendation of the Superintendent, allowed Mr. J. L. Drake, at his own cost to put up as an experiment, in the main building an apparatus for making gas from benzole. This experiment, although at first giving promise of answering the end designed, in the end, proving a failure, was abandoned and the machine removed from the building. The remainder of the fund, besides the amount used in putting up the gas fittings and fixtures, remained in the treasury until 1857. The Legislature failing to pass the appropriation bills that year, the money had to be used towards defraying the ordinary expenses of the Institution. By economy and by omitting to make some improvements and repairs, needed indeed, but not so pressing as this, enough has been saved from the current expense fund to pay back to the gas fund the amount taken from it, and thus to carry out the original design without transcending the limits of the legislative grant.

At a cost of seventeen hundred dollars, which is three hundred dollars less than had been previously offered to the gas company, the mains were laid from the corporation limits to the premises, and the gas introduced in July last, into the main building and the chapel.

It is found in use, besides being safer, to add greatly to the convenience and comfort of the inmates. Indeed it is a wonder to us all now how we ever did succeed in lighting the study rooms with lard oil and tallow candles.

The appropriation of six thousand dollars for the purposes of insuring the buildings, repairing the heating apparatus, and refurnishing the apartments has been used in part according to the terms of the grant.

An insurance of forty thousand dollars on the buildings, in good and reliable companies, has been effected, at a premium of one per cent. per annum, which is at as low a rate as any responsible company could be found to take the risk with the present method of heating in use. Formerly one-half of one per cent. was all that was charged. The wisdom of insuring was proven by the cupola on the south wing of the main building taking fire from a flue the next day after the policies were taken out, and burning down to the roof. The damages were promptly paid by the companies that had taken the risk.

Although the necessity which compelled the further postponement of the adoption of a new and better method of heating the Institution is regretted, yet acquiescence in the decision is cheerfully yielded. The hot air furnaces that would admit of it have been repaired, stoves have been put up, so far as could be done to supply the deficiency of the furnaces, and the whole made as safe and efficient as the nature of the case would allow. It is hoped that the day is not far distant, when the Board will be furnished with funds to provide a steam apparatus, the method of heating best adapted to the buildings, the safest, the most efficient and most economical in the judgment of all who have examined the subject.

The refitting and refurnishing of the apartments have been done only in part. The interior of the walls and the woodwork of the rooms needed repairing very much, and the carpets and much of the furniture were literally worn out; but it was thought advisable by the Board, while the heating apparatus remained in its present condition, not to enter upon these repairs to any greater extent than were necessary to present comfort, and to avoid the charge of bad management, from a want of neatness. The school rooms and chapel and a few of the more public rooms and halls have been repainted and the walls of some of them papered; also, such articles of furniture, bed clothing, and carpets as could not longer be dispensed with, have been purchased. All has been done that it was thought best to do under present circumstances, to render the apartments neat and comfortable to the inmates. Therefore only about one-half of the sum specially appropriated for these purposes, has been drawn from the treasury.

The following general statement will show the present condition of the funds and the exact state of the account at this date between the Institution and the treasury department of the government:

Of the above unexpended balance $185 89 is the amount put in the hands of the Steward, with which to meet the petty current expenses of the month, and the remainder, $166 46, is the cash received from recent sales of articles manufactured in the shops.

The shoe-making and cabinet-making carried on in connection with the Institution, for the benefit of the pupils, has been prosecuted energetically and profitably throughout the year. Peculiarly the success has been greater than in any former period. The profits over and above all expenses amount to six hundred and fifty-five dollars and eighty-six cents, as will appear from the exact statement of the business of each shop, which we insert below:

The pupils engaged in learning these trades, with very few exceptions, manifest a commendable industry and zeal, and seem to appreciate very highly the advantage which a knowledge of a trade will give them, as a means of self-support in after life. The influence of the shops upon the pupils occupied in them, in affording suitable relief from study, in promoting habits of order and industry, and in exciting among them a proper spirit of independence and self-respect, is very happy indeed. The two or three hours spent daily in manual labor, is found not to interfere with the studies of the school room, but rather to promote mental improvement. A ready sale of the articles manufactured is easily made and at fair prices.

The experience of a year, however, has shown that some better motive power than physical force, is necessary for propelling the machinery required for profitably carrying on the cabinet shop. A tennon and morticing machine, a lathe for turning, several circular saws, and a planing machine are essential for performing properly and with dispatch the various operations in cabinet making. In performing them by hand the labor is not only slow and tedious, but also, in most cases, excessively severe. Nowhere in the country is there a shop of this kind carried on successfully, without some of these appurtenances. They being common in other shops of the kind, they are necessary in order that the pupils may properly learn the trade. It is estimated that the motive power, with the machinery required, all put up and ready for use, will cost not over one thousand dollars.

As a motive power it is thought that a small steam engine would best answer the purpose, and in the end be the most economical. The fuel necessary to run it would be abundantly supplied by the chips and saw-dust of the shop. A common hand with a little instruction could run the machinery, and with the foreman, while the pupils were in school, saw out and prepare the lumber, and have it ready for them to make up into furniture. When he was not thus engaged he could be employed in other useful work about the Institution. Were this machinery provided it is believed that double the amount of furniture could be made with much less labor and with greater profits, and that the pupils would more readily and as perfectly learn the trade.

Therefore we respectfully recommend to ~~the~~ Board to authorize this improvement to be made. To accomplish it, it will not be necessary to incur any debt, nor to encroach upon the funds appropriated for other purposes. The balance on hand, belonging to the shops, will pay for the engine, and the other machinery can be purchased from time to time and added, as the business and profits of the shop will justify.

The farm belonging to the Institution has been well and judiciously managed the last year by the Steward. His report, which exhibits a very satisfactory result, and to which attention is invited, will be found in the appendix.

A slight change in the time of opening and of closing the sessions of the school has been made, to which the attention of the parents of the pupils is invited. The sessions hereafter will begin the 15th day of September and end the last Wednesday of June. There is, as is customary in all similar institutions for the deaf and dumb in the United States, but one vacation a year, and this change will bring it, as to time and duration, so as to embrace the hottest part of the summer. The annual examination of the pupils will take place on the last two days of the session, at which all their parents and guardians are invited to attend. Pupils are not allowed to leave till the examination is over. At the close of the examination certificates of the standing of each is distributed to all the members of the several classes. At the opening of the session the classes are organized, and the teacher of each is designated, and it is very important that all who intend to enter should be present punctually at that time. By being late a pupil falls below his class and may lose his standing and have to be put in a lower grade. The system of instruction requires that a strict classification, according to the attainments of the several pupils, should be maintained in order that the greatest good to the greatest number may be accomplished. A teacher can not in justice retard the progress of a class for one tardy member. A new class is formed at the commencement of every term, and it is especially necessary that those who wish to enter for the first time should be in attendance at the opening. If from any cause such should be prevented from coming until a month or more of the session has elapsed, they are advised to remain at home until the beginning of the following term.

The Institution has now been in operation fifteen years, and from the first has been liberally supported by the State; and it may well be asked, are the results such as will compensate for the labor and expense bestowed upon the object? What has been its influence upon the three hundred who have left its walls to take their places in society? How have they and are they performing their parts in life? In answer to these questions we say that they are scattered throughout the State and the West, and everywhere they are the living vindication of the cause. What are they compared with what they would have been without the helping hand of the State? Scores of them are married and settled as sober, industrious, useful members of community. From no school of speaking and hearing persons has there gone out in the same time a greater number in proportion to the whole who have become worthy, substantial citizens. Very rarely can one be found who has gone through the course of training and study afforded by the Institution, who, in after life, has become idle and vicious, or become a public charge. Some are following the trades which they learned while they were pupils. Others have settled upon farms and are successfully cultivating the soil. Several are known to have earned enough by their own labor to purchase small farms and are located on them, doing well. Enquiry into particular cases has exhibited, in the particular line chosen by them, an industry, a skill, a perseverance and a success equal to that of the generality of their more favored brethren. Above all we can appeal to the large number who give hopeful evidence of evangelical piety, as the fruits under God of the instruction given and as the evidence of the great and incalculable benefits conferred upon them by the Institution. Otherwise they would have been in heathenish darkness, "without hope and without God in the world." In the large number therefore who have been restored to society, happiness and usefulness in the State, is found the proof of the wisdom which instituted the Asylum, the benevolence which has sustained it, and the zeal and faithfulness of those who have managed its affairs; and the friends of the cause can find in the successes of the past, as well as in the prosperity of the present, ample encouragement to renewed zeal and perseverance in carrying forward the enterprise.

The grateful acknowledgments of the pupils are due and are hereby most respectfully, in their behalf, tendered to the editors and publishers, who have gratuitously furnished the Institution with their papers and periodicals during the last year. We can assure them that their contributions are gladly received and highly appreciated, and are the means of supplying to the pupils much useful information. A list of these contributions, with the names of the editors and publishers, will be given in the appendix.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

It will be observed that the sum of two hundred and forty-nine dollars and twenty cents has been paid out for labor, and the sum of six hundred and sixty dollars received from the farm in fire wood. The labor was expended in chopping the fire wood, and in clearing, and in ditching the land to prepare it for cultivation. The wood is now all cut off from the farm, which has for ten years past furnished the chief part of the fuel consumed by the Institution. After this winter all the fuel required will have to be purchased.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

WM. R. HOGSHIRE, Steward.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE

---

I. All the Deaf and Dumb of the State between the ages of ten and twenty-one years are entitled to an education, without charge for Board or tuition, in this Institution, upon compliance with the Rules. No certificate of any kind is required for admission. Persons, however, desirous of placing a pupil in the school, should write to the Superintendent, informing him of the name, age, residence of the deaf mute, the cause, if known, of deafness, &c. The Superintendent will immediately answer, stating the time when the pupil will be received. This course is in all cases recommended, though none will be refused who come at the commencement of the session. Applications in behalf of persons of more or less than the required age, will be considered by the Trustees, who reserve to themselves the right to accept or reject such applicants, as they may deem just and proper.

II. Pupils from other States are received at the rate of one hundred dollars per session of ten months, for board and tuition.

III. The length of the course of instruction is five years; and, that the pupils may become more proficient in their studies, they are allowed and advised to remain one year longer. At the end of six years, the Superintendent may select such pupils as he may consider would be particularly benefited by continuing longer at school, and, if approved by the Board of Trustees, they shall be permitted to remain an additional year.

IV. Pupils will be admitted on the following conditions : 1st. The pupil, well provided with clothes, is to be brought to the Asylum punctually at the commencement of each session, for the period of five years, unless detained at home by his or her sickness. 2d. The pupil is to remain in the school until the last Wednesday in June, of each year. 3d. No parent or guardian shall be allowed to take a pupil out of the school in session time, without the consent of the Board of Trustees.

V. It is the intention of the Trustees to render the Institution self-supporting, so far as practicable, and that every pupil, on leaving its walls, shall be so proficient in some useful occupation or trade, as to be able to procure a livelihood, without reliance on the charities of others. In accordance with this design, all the scholars will be required to labor a portion of each day, the girls in performing the lighter kinds of housework, and in various kinds of needle-work, as plain sewing, ornamental work, dress making or millinery, &c.; and the boys at various trades, the necessary work about the Asylum, and the cultivation of the farm and garden.

VI. The annual sessions of the school commence on the 15th day of September, and close on the last Wednesday of June. Every pupil is to come promptly on or before the first day of the session, and is to remain until the last day of the same. The only exceptions allowed are cases of sickness.

VII. No pupil, unless under extraordinary circumstances, can be received at any other time than the commencement of the session.

VIII. Parents and guardians are required to furnish annually to each pupil, the following supply of clothing :

FOR MALE PUPILS.

WINTER CLOTHING.

2 Coats,	5 pairs of Socks,
2 Vests,	1 pair of Boots,
2 pairs of Pantaloons,	2 pairs of Shoes,
5 Shirts,	2 Hats, or 1 Hat and 1 Cap.

SUMMER CLOTHING.

2 Coats,	2 pairs of Pantaloons,
2 Vests,	1 Palm-leaf Hat.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLES.

1 Ivory Comb,	2 pairs of Suspenders,
2 pairs of Wooden Combs,	2 pocket Handkerchiefs.

FOR THE FEMALE PUPILS.

3 or 4 Calico Dresses,	2 pairs of Summer Stockings,
1 Woolen or Worsted Dress,	2 pairs of Winter Stockings,
1 Sunday and one Sun Bonnet,	2 Night Gowns,
2 or 3 changes of underclothing,	3 pairs of Shoes,
2 Pocket Handkerchiefs.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLES.

1 Shawl,	2 Hair Combs,	1 Coarse and two Ivory Combs.
----------	---------------	-------------------------------

In addition to the above outfit, a sum of not less than $3 00 is to be deposited with the Superintendent for incidental expenses, repairs of Shoes, &c.; any part of which remaining unexpended, will be returned at the close of the session.

It is not intended that the clothing should be of an expensive kind. For boys' winter apparel, plain home-made cloth is sufficiently good. For Summer wear, country linen will answer for pants, with some kind of dark goods or prints for coats and vests. Girls' calico dresses may be made of a cheap article which will not fade; and while for older girls, at least, one pair of morocco shoes should be furnished, one or both of the other pairs should be of good calf skin. On all articles of clothing which it is possible to mark, the full name of the pupil should be written with indelible ink. Each pupil should be supplied with a trunk or a chest.

IX. Pupils can be furnished with clothing in the Institution, only in accordance with the following Legislative enactment:

“That when the patients of the Hospital for the Insane, and pupils of the Institution for the Blind and Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb are not otherwise supplied with clothing, they shall be furnished by the proper Superintendent, who shall make out an account therefor, in each case, against the respective counties from which said patients and pupils were sent, in an amount not exceeding twenty dollars per annum for every such patient, which account will be signed by the Superintendent and attested by the seal of the Hospital, Institute for the Blind, or Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, as the case may be, and the Treasurer of State shall charge the account thus certified to the county from which the patient was sent, and credit the amount to the current expense fund of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, Institute for the Blind, and Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb."

"SEC. 3. When such account shall be received by the Treasurer of the proper county, to whom it shall be immediately sent upon its reception by the Treasurer of State from such Superintendent, such County Treasurer shall cause the same to be paid out of the County Treasury to the Treasurer of State. And such County Treasurer shall collect the amount of such account from the estate of such patient, or pupil, if he have any, by suit, if necessary, in the name of the county: Provided, That if such patient or pupil have a family, at least five hundred dollars of his property shall be exempt from the payment of such account. And suit for the collection of such account may be commenced in the county to which the account is certified, but the Court in which it was instituted, shall appoint a guardian ad litem for such patient or pupil; and if he have a wife, shall cause at least twenty days' notice of the commencement of such suit to be given her in writing. And no other notice of such suit, except as herein provided, shall be required."

X. Those persons bringing pupils to, or taking them away, can not be furnished with board, lodging, or horse-keeping, at the Asylum.

XI. All business letters, or letters of inquiry in regard to pupils in the Asylum, or those whom it may be designed to place there, should be addressed to THOMAS MAC INTIRE, Superintendent, Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Indianapolis." All letters for pupils must be pre-paid, and contain the words, "Institution for the Deaf and Dumb," as part of their direction.

Showing an excess of expenditures of $519 60, which sum, however, is more than balanced by an amount in the hands of the Superintendent, advanced for current expenses.

The increased number of pupils, the high price of work material, the unusual amount expended for improvements and repairs, the partial re-furnishing of the Institute, the purchase of a new piano, a melodeon, and other musical instruments, taken in connection with the fact, that the Superintendent, in order to get in as much as possible of what was due the work department, purchased over a thousand dollars' worth of groceries at the close of last term, most of which are now on hands, and subsequently, a thousand bushels of coal and a full supply of wood for a year to come, have all tended to increase the expenses over the year 1858. Yet the expenses have been kept strictly within the receipts, and no purchases been authorized by the Board, or made by the Superintendent, except what were absolutely demanded by the immediate wants of the Institution, except in cases where the reduced price of an article has warranted the purchase of a large quantity.

The following statement will show the annual expenditures for the support of the Institute for the years 1854, '55, '56, '57, '58 and '59.

Expenses for 1854.....	$13,978 34
Expenses for 1855.....	19,794 31
Expenses for 1856 .....	22,292 96
Expenses for 1857.....	19,597 89
Expenses for 1858.....	12,244 01
Expenses for 1859.....	18,251 28

The number of pupils in attendance during these years were, respectively, as follows:

In 1854 .....	77
In 1855 .....	77
In 1856 .....	73
In 1857 .....	63
In 1858 .....	53
In 1859 .....	66

The following pupils were, at the close of the last term, graduated or honorably discharged—a part of them on account of improved sight, and others from the fact that they had received all the benefits that the Institute could confer.

Those thus discharged, were:

Sophia Bixler, of Allen county; Mary E. Smith, of Harrison county; Anna Snoffer, of Putnam county, and Eliza Nixon of Clark county.

The estimated expenses of the Institute for the current year, ending October 31, 1860, are as follows:

For current expenses .....	$8,000 00
For improvements and repairs.....	1,500 00
For furniture.....	300 00
For officers and salaries.....	2,500 00
For miscellaneous expenses.....	500 00
For fuel and lights .....	1,000 00
For work department .....	1,200 00
Total .....	<hr/> $15,000 00

The organization of the Institute remains the same as last year, except the music teacher, Miss Lue M. Morley, who, to the regret of all, at the close of the last term declined a re-election, and Miss Gertrude McColloch, a young lady whom the Board believe to be highly competent, was elected in her stead. The following is the organization for the current year:

Dr. J. McWorkman, Superintendent, salary $800, and board in the Institute; Mr. Granville M. Ballard, Literary Teacher, $500 and board in the Institute; Miss Eliza W. Bowman, Literary Teacher, $300 with board in the Institute; Miss Gertrude McColloch, Music Teacher, $300 with board in the Institute; Mrs. Juliette McWorkman, Matron, $400 with board in the Institute; Mr. Milton C. Holman, Teacher in Work Department, $300 with board in the Institute; Livingston Dunlap, M. D., $200.

The Board bear willing testimony to the faithfulness with which all the officers of the Institute have discharged their several duties, as well as to the marked proficiency made by the pupils in their literary and musical studies, and their progress in the art of handicraft. Appended hereto will be found the report of the Superintendent and Secretary, to which attention is invited.

Respectfully submitted.

W. H. TALBOTT, President of the Board.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

---

To the Trustees of the Indiana Institute for the Education of the Blind.

GENTLEMEN:—In compliance with law I have the honor of submitting this, the thirteenth annual report of the Superintendent of the Indiana Institute for the Education of the Blind, and in doing so, it affords me much gratification to be able to report its continued prosperity and usefulness.

Another year in the history of our Institution has passed away, and with it have gone from this life many of our fellow citizens and friends, yet our household, numbering in all more than eighty persons, have, through the goodness of Providence, been preserved. It is now nigh four years since a death has occurred in the Institution.

The number of pupils in the Institute at the date of my last report was fifty-three, of whom ten were either graduated or discharged at the close of the session of 1858, leaving the actual number of enrolled pupils in the Institute at the commencement of the last session forty-three, since which time there have been twenty-three admissions, making the total number in attendance during the past year sixty-six, an increase of thirteen over the preceding year.

The admissions during the month of October, 1859, are not included in the above computation. When we speak of the past year, we allude to the scholastic year, which closes on the last Wednesday in July, and not to the fiscal year, which does not close till the 31st day of October.

All the admissions during the month of October—the commencement of the scholastic year—are reported in the catalogue of pupils in attendance the ensuing year. We have thought proper to be thus explicit on this branch of our report, so as to obviate that inconvenience experienced by the “Committee on Public Expenditures” of the last Legislature, in ascertaining the comparative cost, per capita, of supporting pupils in this and similar Institutions of the United States.

All the officers of the Institution have performed the duties assigned them during the past year with commendable fidelity, and we hazard nothing in saying, that in no one year since the foundation of the Institute have the pupils conducted themselves more orderly, or made more enduring proficiency in literature, in music or in handicraft.

The members of your honorable Board, as citizens of Indiana, proud of her benevolent institutions, have not been insensible or indifferent, I know, to the unpleasant fact that the reverses which this Institution has been unhappily subjected to for the last few years, in consequence of a lack of the necessary means to keep it in a vigorous and prosperous condition, coupled with the fierce ordeals it has, at times, been made to pass through—from causes now happily buried in the past—have had the effect of somewhat damaging its influence for good. We trust, however, that it has now fully and completely emerged from all its troubles, and that we may indulge the hope, that for the sake of the unfortunate class, whose interests are paramount to all others, and for whose benefit alone the Institution was founded, there may be no just cause for any future trouble. We think it is the sincere desire of every right-minded man, that the Institution may now have a season, at least, of tranquility, and that it may go forward fulfilling its mission of ameliorating the condition of the Blind, and fitting them for happiness, for usefulness, and for the active duties of life. These objects faithfully carried out, and it makes but little difference to the public who holds position in the Institute, so that its affairs are properly and economically administered.

Our work shop, as well the main building, which have been suffering for the last several years for want of repair, are now in comparative good condition. It will require, however, an expenditure of several hundred dollars more to put the main building in a perfect state of repair. The wood work of both the exterior and interior, begins to need another coat of paint.

The new heating apparatus, commenced some years since, remains unfinished, and must so remain till a sufficient appropriation is made by the Legislature to insure its completion. The last Legislature made an appropriation of three hundred dollars to repair the old apparatus, but whether this amount will be sufficient to put it in working order, or whether it can be made to subserve the purpose of properly warming the building in all its parts, at all, remains to be shown. We trust, however, that in a short time we will be able to fully test its capabilities, and should it fail, it ought to be forever abandoned. We think it extremely problematical whether any system of heating has yet been devised, which will produce a uniform, comfortable and healthy heat in all parts of a building of the size and construction of ours.

The following statement will show the business operations of the work department, for the year ending October 31st, 1859:

Cash received.....	$1,345 72
--------------------	------------

Value of Articles manufactured.

Brooms .....	$1,054 40
Bead work.....	245 25
Palm-leaf hats .....	55 80
Plain and fancy knitting.....	5 00
Brushes.....	100 32
Bottoming chairs.....	3 25

Total.....	$1,464 02
------------	------------

In addition to the above the following work has been performed by the female pupils, to-wit:

12 Sheets,	10 Window curtains,
40 Pillow cases,	30 Aprons,
25 Skirts,	12 Table cloths,
45 Towels,	40 Napkins.

Besides a very considerable amount of sewing for themselves, of which no account has been taken.

The occupation of braiding palm-leaf hats, being a new business for the Blind, we have only employed a few of our girls and some of the small boys at it. Our opinion of the practicability of this trade, as a profitable employment for blind girls, particularly, is not only unchanged, but strengthened by the experience of another year.

The broom-corn crop, sharing the same fate of other crops in the West, in 1858, has never before been so high or so scarce, as during the past year. The prices we were compelled to pay for it, left little, if any margin for profit on our brooms. High as it has been, however, we thought it better that our young men should be employed, even though the result of their labor should not pay cost of materials, than that they should sit down in idleness—the worst punishment that can be inflicted on a blind man. Yet for some two months we were utterly unable to procure material at any price. The great and leading object of the work department of this Institution is to teach the Blind some useful trade, by which they may be enabled to make a livelihood for themselves, and was never intended as a source of revenue to the State.

The teaching of handicraft, in short, forms a part of our system of education, and a very important part too, and cannot be abandoned without destroying one of its most useful features. Hence it ought to be kept in operation, though it should fail to fully pay its own expenses. We try, however, to always keep the expenses within the limits of the receipts.

Our thanks are due the proprietors for the following newspapers, which have been kindly and gratuitously sent us the past year, viz :

Indiana State Sentinel,
Indianapolis Journal,
New Albany Ledger,
Locomotive,
Herald and Era,
Miami County Sentinel,

Paoli Eagle,
Boone County Pioneer,
Martinsville Monitor,
Alton, Illinois, Courier,
Central Christian Herald.

These papers have been read, with others, in the hearing of our pupils, affording not only amusement, but valuable information to officers and pupils.

Appended to this report will be found a catalogue of pupils in attendance the past year.

Entertaining high hopes of the continued usefulness and success of this Institution, and that the ensuing year may be one of advancement to our pupils, and of encouragement to the friends of the Blind, I subscribe myself,

Very respectfully,

J. McWORKMAN,

Superintendent.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY A. P. WILLARD,
Governor of the State of Indiana:

The commissioners of the Hospital for the Insane, beg to submit this, their eleventh annual report:

We are happy in being able to report the Institution out of debt, and entirely free from pecuniary embarrassments. For the general management, prosperous condition, health of the Hospital, &c., we respectfully refer you to the accompanying able report of the Superintendent.

FINANCE OF THE HOSPITAL.

We herewith submit the report of the Treasurer of State.

The great and growing need for the completion of the north wing is manifest from the numerous rejected applicants for admission into the Hospital.

We ask your Excellency's aid in bringing the subject before the next Legislature, and assistance in procuring a sufficient appropriation, at an early day, to ensure a speedy completion of the Hospital buildings as originally designed.

W. H. TALBOTT, President,
E. J. PECK,
HENRY BRADY.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Commissioners:

GENTLEMEN:—We herewith lay before you our annual report for the fiscal year just terminated; and while we feel that we may very properly congratulate ourselves on being able to represent the Hospital affairs in a prosperous condition, yet we cannot but regret that the want of room for the accommodation of more of the unfortunate Insane, compelled us, during the year, to refuse many patients, who, by prolonged treatment, might have been benefited, if not restored to mental health.

The following statement will exhibit the operations of the Hospital, for the year:

There are no outstanding debts against the Institution. The bills of purchase and the wages of employees, are brought in every month for your examination and allowance. The old debts for building are all liquidated.

HEALTH OF HOSPITAL.

The patients, as well as the household generally, have enjoyed immunity from physical disease in a very marked degree.

The average daily number of persons in the Hospital during the year, has been three hundred and thirty. The deaths have been thirteen; twelve patients and one employee, being a fraction less than four per centum. When we take into consideration that four hundred and eighty patients were treated during the year, and that it required, all the time, more than fifty employees to attend to the affairs of the Hospital, we may very properly claim that our household has been favored with a goodly share of bodily health, for which we most sincerely return our heartfelt thanks to the Giver of all good.

MORE ROOM NEEDED FOR THE INSANE.

The number of applicants refused this and the preceding year, is sufficient reason for urging the enlargement and completion of the Hospital buildings, for the accommodation and treatment of more patients. The ninety-one patients refused admission the past two years for want of room, are doubtless, in many instances, confined in ill-ventilated rooms, where the treatment is more calculated to confirm than to mitigate their mental or bodily afflictions. Besides the ninety-one formal applications referred to, there have been, on an average, two informal applications every month for the admission of patients, making at least one hundred and forty applicants for the past two years who have failed to find room in the Hospital.

The only remedy for this want of room is to extend the Hospital buildings, and as this involves an appropriation by the General Assembly, we merely refer to the deficiency at this time with a hope that your board will be enabled to present the importance of the subject to the next Legislature, in such a manner as will induce that body to respond to the demands of the most unfortunate class of our citizens, by preparing larger accommodations for their care and treatment. Had there been room in the wards, and an adequate appropriation in the Treasury for the support of patients, we would not have felt justifiable in sending away a single one of those patients, who appear in our report under the head of improved and unimproved, but would have kept them here, where, if there is any chance at all for their recovery, they would have had the full benefit at least of a trial.

EPILEPTICS.

Applications still continue to be made, for the admission of patients insane from the effects of Epilepsy, and as in former years, so in this, we have been compelled to refuse every case, on account of the chronic condition, or supposed incurability, of insanity arising from this cause. These cases are becoming numerous in the State, and as a matter of course, give a great deal of trouble and anxiety to relatives and neighbors, and should by all means be cared for and treated at the public expense, and if they cannot be restored to mental health, they may at least be improved in their personal habits, and made comfortable while they live. We feel sure that such patients can be supported and treated much cheaper in this Institution, if there were room, than in the jails and poor-houses where many of those unfortunate creatures are confined. We sincerely hope, and we believe, something will be done by the next General Assembly to mitigate the condition of the chronic insane of the State. The importance of the subject as a benevolent enterprise, as well as its economy taken in a pecuniary view, demand the highest consideration of our statesmen.

DEFICIENCY OF WATER.

The want of an ample supply of water for sanitary purposes, is still a source of complaint; and in case of a fire in the buildings, we should be entirely at the mercy of the flames, without water, hose or buckets to help ourselves, and to increase our troubles, we should have three hundred insane patients to remove to some place of safety. Either of the engines attached to the heating apparatus, may be used with great service in putting out a fire, and may be brought into effective operation at any hour in the twenty-four, with as little delay (indeed we may say that three-fourths of the time, water could be applied at once, by means of these engines,) as usually attends the use of the ordinary fire engine.

Our recent examinations into the practicability of procuring water by means of Artesian Wells, has satisfied us that we may obtain by this means, an inexhaustable supply at the Hospital.

We mean, and need, fresh water, not mineral as is generally supposed.

FARM OF HOSPITAL.

The farm and garden have yielded an abundance of vegetables. With one farmer and one gardener, assisted by the labor of the patients and those whose duty it is to attend them and whose numbers cannot be diminished, though there were nothing at all to do on the farm, we have produced vegetables sufficient to supply the household for a year, as well as provided enough for the stock on the farm. We have no doubt but that if more land was made available for cultivation, we should be enabled to produce a surplus.

The vegetables, though of prime necessity, have not been of more advantage to the bodily, than the labor expended in the production has been to the mental health of patients.

RESIDENT OFFICERS.

We are gratified in being able to report that the officers, without exception, have been courteous towards each other, have shown a commendable spirit for the welfare of the patients and have strictly performed the duties assigned them.

The multitudinous responsibilities imposed on the Superintendent imperiously require that the subordinate officers should yield strict obedience to the laws and by-laws for the government of the Hospital, that he may thereby be enabled to carry into successful effect the noble object of the Institution; but when subordinates cease to obey these injunctions and lose their own self-respect, grow insolent and become inefficient, arrogant, and offensively intermeddling in their disposition, and imagine they are absolutely the embodiment of authority, and thus swell into proportions too large for their official positions, it is very evident that the interest of the patients and the good government of the Hospital must suffer, and nothing but suspension of the delinquents and their expulsion from the Institution will abate the evil.

We annex the following extract from a letter as appropo to the occasion, written to the undersigned by Dr. Workman, Superintendent of the Provincial Lunatic Asylum, at Toronto, Canada West, in reply to various interrogatories we put in reference to support, &c., and which was incorporated in our special report to the General Assembly, January 12, 1859. He says:

“But the Superintendent of an Insane Asylum has other people to manage and govern besides his patients. Numerous servants and attendants, under whose charge the Insane are placed, demand his vigilant, keen and incessant supervision. The amount of mischief which even one scoundrel is capable of working in any large establishment, and the annoyance and perplexity such a character can contrive to give, can be understood only by those who have encountered the evil.

"The Toronto Asylum has not enjoyed total exemption from troubles of this sort. I have, however, fearlessly and without favor exercised, as I purpose for the future to exercise towards all under my control, that authority which the law has vested in me as Medical Superintendent of this Asylum, and without which all salutary discipline would be but a delusion.

"No man of sense in a position of heavy responsibility will dismiss a good servant—none but a fool or knave will retain a bad one."

Drs. Barnes and Dunlap have faithfully and promptly performed the duties assigned them and have with commendable zeal made every effort to enforce and carry into effect the police of the establishment, while Mr. Hunter has been no less active in his department, and presents as evidence of his faithful stewardship the excellent condition of the farm and its abundant productions.

Mrs. Sarah G. Hall, who served so acceptably as Matron for one year, resigned her position on the first of April last, and was succeeded by Mrs. Esther McLaughlin, who fills her place very satisfactorily. Mrs. Hall, while connected with the Hospital, endeared herself by her amiability and genuine philanthropy to the patients, as well as to the household generally. She brought into active exercise those rare elements which qualify a lady for Matron. May happiness and prosperity attend her is the sincere prayer of patients, employees and officers.

For the first five months of the fiscal year Dr. Geo. K. McCoy, of Gosport, Indiana, acted as assistant physician with very marked ability in the place of Dr. Dunlap, who was absent. The Doctor has returned to the general practice of his profession, in which field we feel sure, if merit is rewarded, he will succeed in establishing a reputable name.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

The following Reverend gentlemen have favored us during the past year with sermons and lectures, for which we return them our sincere thanks, namely: Rev. Mr. Small, of the United Presbyterian Church; Revs. Messrs. Briender and Miller, of the German Methodist Church; Rev. Dr. Wechsler, of the Jewish Church; Rev. Mr. Fulks, of the Baptist Church, and Rev. Mr. Williams, of the Baptist Church, for several highly interesting lectures.

Sermons and moral lectures are not only useful in diverting the minds of patients from unpleasant and persistent imaginary dangers, but are instructive to many, and in consequence of these beneficial effects we embrace every opportunity to procure ministers to preach for us, and when they cannot be engaged we read lectures ourselves to the household every Sunday.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The Editors, Printers, and Publishers of the following newspapers and Periodicals, have placed us under many obligations for their continued gratuitous supply of reading matter. No class of men are so liberal, none have added so much to the amusement, instruction and happiness of the patients, and none deserve so much of our gratitude for disinterested kindness, as they; and we regret that we are not in a position to do more than return our sincere thanks, and beg that they may not forget us in the coming year.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON, }
Jeffersonville, Dec. 27, 1859. }

TO HIS EXCELLENCY A. P. WILLARD,
Governor of the State of Indiana :

In accordance with the provisions of the act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, approved March 5th, 1857, we submit the following as our annual report of the progress and condition of the Prison :

The present Board of Directors met at the Prison on the 28th day of January, 1859, and was organized by the election of Samuel H. Buskirk president of the same.

We have made no material change in the officers of the Institution. The offices of Warden, Deputy Warden, Clerk, Moral Instructor and Physician, are held by the same gentlemen who held them at the time the Prison came under our supervision. Their experience and fidelity, and a proper regard for the interests of the Prison, required their continuation in office, and we have, therefore, made no removals. We have appointed an assistant keeper for the female department, and she has entered upon the discharge of her duties. We feel confident that this appointment will result in great good to the female convicts, and to the State. To place the females under the care of a male keeper would be manifestly improper ; and to leave them unemployed and unrestrained to work out their own devices, must necessarily result, as it always has resulted, in disorder and great mischief.

A few changes have been made by resignation and removal among the assistant keepers. The present number of assistant keepers, including the wall and night guards, is twenty-six. A large number of our convicts must be worked outside of the prison walls or remain unemployed, and for this reason we are compelled to employ more keepers than would otherwise be necessary, and this must be the case until we can make contracts for the labor of all our men within the prison walls.

We have carefully revised the by-laws, rules and regulations which were adopted by our predecessors for the government of the Prison, and have made such alterations and additions as the experience of the officers and present circumstances seemed to require. Although we have no doubt that future revisions may and will be necessary, we feel confident that a faithful observance, by all the officers of the Prison, of the rules as they now stand, will secure good order, health, and comfort to the inmates.

The report of the Warden, and the estimates and tables to which reference is therein made, will show your Excellency the buildings which have been erected, and the improvements which have been made here during the last year. We have endeavored to make only such improvements as were actually needed. Most of the work has been done by the convicts, under the direction and supervision of the Warden.

The specific appropriation of the last General Assembly has been principally expended for materials, which have been put up and used by our own labor.

Your Excellency will perceive that the materials and labor exceed by some thousands of dollars the amount appropriated by the Legislature for Prison improvements.

We have accomplished much, but much yet remains to be done if our Prison is ever to be made what the Prison of a great and prosperous State should be. Our crowded workshops and cell-houses, the large amount of men who are unemployed during the day, and who, for want of cells, sleep at night in companies in the halls; the large number who work outside, the necessity which exists for giving the convicts their meals together and not separately in their cells, these and many other facilities which our prison seems constructed to afford the convicts for contact and conference, all hopelessly prevent the maintenance of that strict discipline and cleanliness which are the pride of many Prisons, and which secure alike subordination and comfort.

We desire to earnestly urge upon your Excellency and the Legislature, the expediency, importance and even necessity of offering to the convicts some strong incentive other than the fear of punishment, to observe the rules and discipline of the prison. A just and proper discrimination should be made between the good and the bad. The good should be rewarded and vicious punished. We, therefore, recommend that the Legislature provide for a commutation of the sentence of those who observe the rules of the Prison, and are not subjected to punishment. Four days of each month should be deducted from the sentence, and the law should provide that subsequent bad conduct would forfeit certificates previously given for good conduct. A similar law has been in operation in several of the States for two or three years, and which has, in the opinion of the persons charged with the execution of the same, produced the most happy and salutary results, and has done more to improve the conduct of convicts than all the punishments that could be inflicted.

The true theory of prison discipline is, to govern by moral and not by brute force. The most hardened criminal may be influenced, if not subdued, by kindness and sympathy. It is true that the convicts have to be restrained of their liberty, and subjected occasionally to punishment, but by appealing to their better feelings, and rewarding the meritorious, the necessity for punishment will to a great extent cease.

The Inspectors of the Massachusetts State Prison in their last annual report, in speaking of the operation of a law similar to the one recommended, use the following language:

“The last few months of a prisoner’s term, like the closing weeks of a long voyage, hang much the most heavily; when, therefore, a convict can thus shorten a year’s term twelve days, a three years term seventy-two days, a five years term one hundred and twenty days, or a ten years term six hundred days, he has a strong incentive to good behavior. A few months’ perseverance in the decorum thus induced, does much towards forming in the convict permanent habits of obedience and self control, and developing in him a more hopeful, and therefore more kindly and teachable disposition. We therefore consider this law as a very valuable addition to the legislation concerning the Prison.”—Report 1858, p. 4.

It will be perceived upon examination of the tables accompanying this report, that during the last year there were in this prison three male convicts under fifteen years of age, seventy-six from fifteen to twenty, and fifteen females. Juvenile offenders should not be permitted to associate with older and more hardened criminals in prisons where the most thorough and rigid discipline can be maintained, and the evils resulting from this association are greatly increased in this prison, where it is impossible, from the crowded condition of the same, to maintain proper discipline and enforce our rules against conversation between the convicts. These facts conclusively demonstrate the imperative necessity there is for a House of Refuge in this State. The most of our sister States have these charitable and benevolent institutions, and Indiana should not be hindmost in her efforts to reform her young men, and provide homes for the orphans and destitute. Her other charitable institutions reflect great honor upon her benevolence and liberality. The framers of our present Constitution were duly impressed with the importance of this subject. The second section of the ninth article of the Constitution expressly declares that “The General Assembly shall provide Houses of Refuge for the correction and reformation of juvenile offenders.” The Legislature has no discretion, the duty is imperative, and every principle of humanity demands its performance.

It has heretofore been the practice in this prison to permit the convicts to do the cooking and superintend the dining-room; experience and observation have demonstrated that this was a very bad system; great waste was committed, and the proper discipline and decorum were not observed at the meals of the convicts. We have appointed an officer whose duty it is to take the entire control of the provisions, to direct and superintend the cooking, and to regulate all matters connected with that department. From several months' experience, we are satisfied that the change will result in improving the discipline, increasing the comforts of the prisoners, and saving largely to the State, over and above the salary of the officer.

The completion of the school-room has greatly increased the facilities for imparting instruction, and added to the efficiency of that very important department of the prison.

Since the first of last October, we have had a large number of unemployed men that had to be guarded. We now require all such persons to remain in the school-room during the day, and receive instruction. Those who are employed during the day receive instruction at night.

For a more correct and detailed account of the workings of the school, we refer you to the report of the Moral Instructor.

The accompanying reports of the Warden, Moral Instructor and Physician will show your Excellency fully the internal condition of our prison; it will be perceived that we have but three hundred and forty-four cells for the accommodation of five hundred and fifty-six convicts; and that there are from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and seventy-five convicts unemployed, and who are consuming the earnings of the others. In the Spring when our contracts were made we had not shop-room, and we were officially notified that one hundred and fifty men would be detailed for the construction of a northern prison. We were thus, by two causes, prevented from contracting all our men. Since the erection of our shops, feeling certain that the men would not be needed for the northern prison, for some time at least, we have advertised in the leading papers for proposals for the labor of one hundred and fifty convicts. We have received no proposals as yet.

Notwithstanding our many difficulties, the Warden's report and the subjoined tables show that this year's earnings and receipts have exceeded our expenses by something over five thousand three hundred dollars. But this state of things, for obvious reasons, cannot continue; our number of convicts is constantly increasing, and of course our number of idle men will increase in the same ratio unless we are able to make more contracts. No prison can support itself, unless all the men in health are employed at remunerative prices. We think the Warden's estimates are correct, and that unless something unforeseen prevents, there must be, when the Legislature next meets, a deficiency of some eight thousand or ten thousand dollars for the next year, which must be met by appropriation.

We need not assure your Excellency that we shall earnestly strive to "pay our way," and by vigilant economy to make the deficiency as small as possible.

The annual reports will show that we are carrying out, as best we can, the evident intention of the Legislature as shown by the act of 1857. This we shall continue to do, and, with the cooperation of the prison officers, we hope to be able to show that strict discipline and punishment for crime are consistent with intellectual and moral developement.

Respectfully submitted :

WARDEN'S REPORT.

TO MESSRS. BUSKIRK, BROWN AND COOKERLY,
Directors of the Indiana State Prison.

GENTLEMEN:—In pursuance of the law, I hereby submit to you my annual report of the condition of the prison from December 15, 1858, to December 15, 1859, inclusive.

The Legislature at its last session appropriated ten thousand dollars ($10,000) towards improvements, all of which has been drawn from the State Treasury and expended in making the following improvements:

A new shop, two stories high, seventy feet by forty has been erected in place of "the old blacksmith shop," and a story added to the cooper shop, one hundred and sixty feet by forty, which makes additional room over the cooper and blacksmith shops of two hundred and thirty feet. This is a valuable and necessary improvement, and affords a large amount of room for any kind of mechanical labor. A new store room of the necessary dimensions and capacity, for the safe-keeping of provisions, has also been built the past season; a new kitchen, the old one being too small, and the room occupied by it has been added to the dining room, which greatly needed it. In addition to the above, a new paint shop, for the accommodation of the wagon shop, and one also for the accommodation of Guy & Combs' chair shop, have also been built, as well as a new mill-house two stories high, and an addition of a story to what is called the "small chair shop" formerly occupied by Baird & Co. Various other improvements, such as a neat office in the center of the enclosure for the Deputy Warden, a watch tower on the main building for the use of a night guard, and the fitting up of a school-room. A new sewer for the better drainage of the prison, about nineteen hundred feet long has been commenced, but owing to the bad weather setting in, is not yet completed. This was very much needed, and when finished will furnish an excellent outlet for the filth and offal that would otherwise accumulate and impregnate the atmosphere with an unwholesome miasma.

These improvements are all valuable and absolutely essential, and have been made in pursuance of your order.

The estimate for making the same, amounts to $14,510 44, for further information in regard to the cost of which, I refer you to the statement marked T, as made out by Mr. John R. Monroe, Clerk of the prison.

By the statistics it will be seen that the number of convicts has increased to an alarming extent, there being at the present time five hundred and fifty-six against four hundred and eighty-four last year; this increase has occurred notwithstanding one hundred and fifteen have been discharged by expiration of sentence, fifty-seven by pardon from the Governor, ten have died, and eleven have escaped that have not been retaken; seven have also been remanded for new trials. For detailed information in regard to the number of convicts, &c, I refer you to tables from 1 to 19 inclusive.

There are at present employed by contractors within the prison walls, about two hundred and thirty convicts, and, during the past summer, about sixty were employed outside in making brick, which, together with about thirty others, are now employed in chopping wood, and other labor outside the prison enclosure. Quite a number are also employed in the kitchen, dining-room, cell-houses and other necessary work inside. The number unemployed at the present time is not less than one hundred and fifty, the most of whom attend school during the day, under the superintendence of the Moral Instructor.

Now that we have so much more shop-room, it is a source of deep regret that I have been unable thus far to contract the surplus hands, in order that the convicts might learn some useful mechanical occupation, and at the same time earn the expenses of keeping them. For the purpose of effecting this desirable object, in accordance with an order adopted at your last regular meeting, I gave notice through the Louisville, Indianapolis and Cincinnati papers for proposals for labor and shop-room, to be presented at the present meeting of the Board. I am sorry to say that none have been received.

Notwithstanding the great disadvantages we have labored under the past year, I am happy to say that the labor of the convicts and the improvements made have exceeded the expenses incurred, in the sum of $5,323 70. For monthly statements of moneys received and disbursed, I refer you to the interesting statistics furnished by the Clerk, marked A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M and N. For an account current of moneys received from the State, buildings erected, repairs made, money paid discharged convicts, &c, I refer you to the statement marked S. For a full statement of assets and liabilities, I refer you to the paper marked R.

From the large number of convicts and the deficiency of cells, it is almost impossible to maintain that strictness of discipline that should always exist in a prison; while this is the case, however, it affords me pleasure to state that in the main, the discipline has been enforced rigidly and efficiently. For the accommodation of five hundred and fifty-six convicts there are but three hundred and forty-four cells. This at once demonstrates the great necessity of an additional cell-house; but unless the grounds of the prison are extended, they cannot be built. From the great increase in the number of convicts, it is obvious to every one that something must be done, either in the way of enlarging this prison, or the building of a new one in the northern part of the State. I give my opinion in favor of the latter, for with my experience of fourteen years connected with the prison, I am led to believe that more than four hundred convicts ought not to be in any one prison.

I had hoped, as I know you did, that after the passage of the providing for a new prison in the north by the last Legislature, we would have been relieved of at least one hundred and fifty convicts, as the bill provided that said number should be transferred to work upon it. But in this we were doomed to disappointment, either from a defect in the law or a dereliction of duty on the part of those who were appointed under the law to make the location, and contract for the building of the Prison.

From the number of convicts and the contracted state of the prison, together with the probable increase in the price of provisions, it is reasonable to suppose that it cannot be made to pay expenses during the ensuing year. From the best calculation I can make, I am compelled to fix the deficiency at about eight thousand dollars, ($8,000,) and the most rigid economy will have to be practiced in order to keep it from exceeding that amount. In view of this fact I cannot forego recommending to you the great necessity of economizing as much as possible in every department.

In conclusion, Gentlemen, permit me to say that I have received the efficient cooperation of all the officers connected with the prison in maintaining discipline and conducting its affairs generally.

Respectfully submitted:

MORAL INSTRUCTOR'S REPORT.

OFFICE OF MORAL INSTRUCTOR, }
Indiana State Prison, Dec. 15, 1859. }

MESSRS. BUSKIRK, COOKERLY AND BROWN.

GENTLEMEN:—It becomes again my duty to lay before you another annual report of my labors in behalf of the unhappy inmates of this institution.

Permit me in the first place to refer to a fact which appears to be forgotten by some and ignored or ridiculed by others; the prison law of 1857 by creating the office and prescribing the duties of Moral Instructor, asserts, at least indirectly, that the Indiana penitentiary is henceforth not to be merely a place of punishment; that convicted felons are like other men, rational, intellectual, moral and immortal beings, that therefore, while such punitive measures are adopted as the strictest justice may demand, proper arrangements should be made with a view to their reformation and restoration to society. To the honor of our noble State this is what her statute book teaches us, and in this respect at least it is consistent with the teaching and practice of Him who "came to seek and save the lost," and of whom it was predicted "A bruised reed shall he not break and the smoking flax shall he not quench." How great is the responsibility of those to whom has been intrusted the management of our prison, the care, instruction and discipline of the prisoners! How weighty is the duty imposed upon us, not only by the law of God but by the law of the land! Should we forget our responsibility or neglect to discharge our duty, we should be unworthy of the trust reposed in us, and inflict a grievous wrong as well upon our country as upon those committed to our charge. Actuated by these principles, I have endeavored in my department to carry out the law in its spirit and integrity, and to this object I have devoted nearly all my time and attention for almost three years, and it gives me pleasure to say, with the entire and hearty concurrence of the Directors and Warden.

When I entered upon the duties of Moral Instructor, I was convinced that any system of prison discipline avowedly contemplating the reformation of the criminal must prove an utter failure unless the system laid down in the Bible be brought to bear upon his understanding, his conscience and his heart. The experience of three years has strengthened this conviction.

I can conceive of no plan to promote efficient moral discipline except the one prescribed by the Word of God. Sound christian instruction by the Moral Instructor, and the patient, dignified, habitual exercise of an intellectual and moral power by all the officers, these are the main details of the only system of prison management that can be reformatory and successful.

The means used to impart religious and secular knowledge are the same as formerly: the plain preaching of the Gospel, the Sunday-school and night school, lectures and the distribution of books. Our operations, however, are conducted on a much larger scale. Last year the average number attending the night school was fifty-five; this year the number is one hundred and twelve, together with ten teachers and a secretary; they are divided into ten classes or schools, each class being a school in itself, with its own teachers. The whole being under the supervision of myself assisted by Dr. Thomas, the Hospital Steward.

It is difficult to imagine any spectacle more deeply interesting than that presented by our school-room of an evening; more than a hundred men and boys wearing the prison garb, the badge of bondage and disgrace, yet seeming to forget in the ardor of study all their woes. All is order, docility and a desire to improve. To the eye almost every countenance presents the appearance of a mind engaged, while to the ear, the hum of voices bespeaking mental activity and life is sweeter than the music of the Æolian harp. The working of the school system is indeed delightful, and the improvement of the pupils solid and encouraging.

I do not by any means take to myself all the credit of the success of this school; much is due to the Warden for the cheering interest he has ever manifested in the work of instruction, and the readiness with which he has furnished us the necessary materials and facilities; Dr. Thomas also deserves my thanks for his steady cooperation both in the night school and Sunday-school.

For the greater part of last year I have preached twice on each Lord's day, besides teaching and superintending in the Sunday-school and delivering a practical exposition of a portion of scripture.

The Sunday-school numbers one hundred and thirty scholars, divided into seven classes, with teachers and secretary.

I am pleased to report that we have had in operation for some time past, a day school for the benefit of those, who, from any cause, may be unemployed. It promises to be attended with the best results to the habits of the prisoners themselves, as well as to the order and discipline of the prison.

The appropriation by the last Legislature has given us a good library. The books are of incalculable benefit, and the prisoners show their appreciation of the boon by the most diligent use of them. The library, however, is not as beneficial as it would be if the cells were lighted. I am happy to say that every cell is now supplied with a copy of the Word of God. In addition to the instruction referred to above, I have commenced a series of lectures on History, Geography, Astronomy and Geology. These lectures are delivered, some to the day school and some to the night school, and are of the simplest description and conveyed in the plainest language; my object is to enable my hearers to form some conception of the principal events in the history of the World, with their causes and effects, and to illustrate the glorious perfections of the Great Creator as seen in the material creation.

Our simple discourses on these subjects appear to have many good effects; they convey useful information and have a tendency to elevate the mind, but above all, they afford subjects for useful thought and rational and improving conversation.

The female convicts are now, by an order passed at your last meeting, permitted to attend divine service in the chapel; during the week I hold occasional meetings for more direct religious instruction. Their demeanor on such occasions, as well as in the chapel, is respectful and attentive. Although their general conduct is not all that could be desired, yet in this respect, since the appointment of the Matron, the improvement is quite perceptible. We have reason to hope from the Matron's constant supervision and the stricter discipline to which they are consequently subject, they will continue to improve.

Before concluding my report, I would respectfully ask you to consider the condition of the youths in this prison. Last year there were on the 15th of December, forty-eight persons under twenty years of age. There are now about eighty confined here. This is surely a startling fact, and one which ought to bring every citizen of the State to solemn reflection. Gentlemen, to carry out the spirit of the law, you are bound to do something for these children of wretchedness and crime, with the view of saving them from utter destruction. Why is it so often said, "These boys are the worst prisoners we have got?" "They are the hardest to manage, they are oftenest in mischief, and most frequently punished. Because of the natural buoyancy and plasticity of youth, which, soon forgetting the punishment and regardless of the disgrace, adapts itself to the penitentiary as if it were its natural sphere, and seldom aspires to or thinks of a higher one. The danger is very great indeed, that boys sent to the penitentiary for a year, are wrecked for life. They ought to be separated from the older convicts, and they ought to be taught useful trades, so that they may be able, if disposed, as many of them are, to earn an honest living when they leave the prison.

As the Legislature has failed to give us a House of Refuge for such offenders, the matter rests with you.

Respectfully submitted:

JAMES RUNCIE,
Moral Instructor.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

---

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,
Indiana State Prison, Dec. 15, 1859. }

TO MESSRS. BUSKIRK, BROWN AND COOKERLY.

GENTS:—You are hereby furnished with a statement of the sickness and mortality which has taken place since the date of my last annual report, that is, from the 15th of December, 1858.

The number of convicts in this prison has varied but little from five hundred and fifty; the whole number admitted into the Hospital was 1450. Whole number of prescriptions 7658. Of this number ten have died during the year. The mortality will seem to be great without some explanation in regard to the cases. Three of the deaths were from typhoid fever; one from dysentery, which prevailed as an epidemic during the hot months of last summer; one died from injuries received whilst blasting rock, and the others were from old chronic diseases of long standing. And here let me remark upon the inhuman conduct of courts and juries sending men upon their last legs to die in prison; it is too much the case that our prison is converted into a poor-house for invalids, to get rid of whom some paltry crime is hatched, and thus the county gets rid of the expense of keeping them. One of the deaths referred to, was of a convict in the last stages of consumption, and who was after an examination sent into the Hospital to die in a month or two.

The number of applications for relief daily averages about forty. One of the causes of the number of applicants who daily present themselves, is a dissatisfaction with their work and a desire for a change, that their work does not agree with them. This desire is induced from becoming wearied with their present labor, and a removal to another shop will bring them to new scenes and new associations. The responsibility of the Physician is great under such circumstances, and requires nice discrimination that he may not err against humanity.

Some provision should be made for the sick female convicts; there is an increase of this sex in our prison, and as many of them come here with loathsome diseases which require treatment that cannot be attended to properly as they are at present situated, I therefore recommend the building of a room adjacent to the present one, where the sick can be separated from the well, to be treated successfully.

The health of the prison is good at this time, the convicts are all comfortably clad and have sufficient bed-clothing.

In conclusion I would take this opportunity to express my thanks to the Warden and his assistants for active assistance in enforcing such rules and regulations as conduce to the health and comfort of the convict.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

W. F. COLLUM,
Physician.

ASSISTANT KEEPER'S REPORT.

FEMALE DEPARTMENT,
Indiana State Prison, Dec. 15, 1859. }

MESSRS. BUSKIRK, COOKERLY AND BROWN.

GENTLEMEN:—According to custom I herewith furnish you a brief statement of the condition of this department of the prison.

The number of female convicts is much greater than at any former period in the history of the institution.

The general health of those committed to my care has been tolerably good. Some, by careless habits, vicious indulgences and excessive dissipation have injured their constitutions, and are now suffering the effects of such wretched courses. We hope, however, soon to have them restored to as good health as is possible for them, by strict attention to cleanliness, diet and the careful diligence of the Physician.

The deportment of the female prisoners and their obedience to prison rules has been generally satisfactory, with perhaps two or three exceptions. In the case of one, I have had to resort to punishment, (by order, and under the direction of the Warden,) by confinement in a dungeon. The same person has been punished slightly on several previous occasions, but without any lasting effect; she now seems resolved to do better.

I have had in operation for some time a school for instruction in the elementary branches of knowledge. I am pleased to report that the progress of my pupils in reading and writing is most encouraging.

The religious instruction is of the first importance. By an order passed at your last meeting, the females have had the privilege of attending divine service in the chapel; they have had, too, the advantage of occasional meetings for prayer during the week, conducted by the Moral Instructor, accompanied with religious instruction and conversation ; I am sorry to say, however, that I have not noticed those indications of a real reformation that I would be rejoiced to see.

I have not been able to enforce as strict discipline as is sometimes necessary, because of the want of a sufficient number of cells. We also need a suitable place for cooking, in order to enforce that rule No. 14, which says, "no prisoner shall go into the cook-house."

For statistical information I refer you to the report of the Clerk. I feel under great obligation to the Warden and Moral Instructor for their advice and assistance in the discharge of my duty.

REPORT.

---

*To his Excellency, A. P. WILLARD,
Governor of the State of Indiana:*

SIR:—In obedience to the requirements of the law, I have the honor to submit to you the eight annual report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for 1859.

The school reports which were due to this department on the first Monday of November last, from the county Auditors, have been received from all the counties in the State. They show the whole number of children in the State, between the ages of five and twenty-one years, to be 495,019, being an increase over the number reported last year of 15,702. Of this number 267,515 attended the public schools within the year, and 12,372 attended private schools within the year. A large portion of those attending the private schools attended the public schools also, whilst they were in operation, and are included in the number above given as attending the public schools.

There are 7,233 school districts within the State; 6,475 primary schools and 73 high schools; total, 6,547; average number of pupils to each 41.

There were 6,766 teachers employed in the primary schools, of which number 5,294 were males, and 1,359 females, and 62 male and 51 female teachers were employed in the high schools.

The average compensation of male teachers has been $1 13 per day, and of female teachers 86 cents per day.

The average length of the schools has been 77 days. The length of schools appears to have been very unequal, ranging from 22 days to 246 days.

The amount expended for tuition is $421,581. The data for determining the average cost of tuition per child is very imperfectly reported, but from the best data at hand it appears to be between 50 and 55 cents per child per month.

There has been collected, by special tax, for building, furnishing and repairing school houses, fuel, rent, &c., $379,433.

There has been 666 new school houses erected within the year, at an aggregate cost of $292,820, being an average of $439 67 each. The most expensive one being in the city of Fort Wayne and costing $18,551; the second at Wabash Town, costing $15,000; the third at Goshen, costing $8,000.

The apportionment of school revenue for tuition in April, 1859, had to be made, as always heretofore, without any reliable knowledge as to the amount of revenue ready for apportionment. The effect of this has been to leave, of the amount collected for distribution at that time, $68,211 87 unapportioned and unapplied to the schools, thus defeating the legitimate purpose of its collection, to which purpose it is, by the law and the constitution, most solemnly appropriated and set apart. This amount, as I am informed by the Auditor of State, has all been used in the ordinary payments at the State Treasury, and added to similar balances of former years, which in the aggregate now amount to more than $255,000, of which sum the distributive share of each county is shown by a tabular statement in the appendix, numbered 3. And I am further informed by the Auditor of State that the condition of the State Treasury is such that no portion of said sum can be returned to the account of school revenue and be included in the next apportionment, and paid out with the next distribution of school revenue for the support of the schools of the State.

The accumulation of these balances in the State Treasury, and the diversion of so large an amount of money from the cherished object to which it has been so strongly and exclusively appropriated and set apart by law, has given great and general dissatisfaction to our people. It ought to be apportioned and distributed to the schools according to the law, in a prompt and faithful manner. If the whole or any part of this money had been available at the last or any previous apportionment, it would have been included in such apportionment and distributed to the schools. But over this matter, as very correctly remarked by our predecessor, "the Superintendent has no more control than he has over the revenues of Russia."

Much of the present condition of this unexpended portion of our school revenue has resulted from the want of prompt and reliable official statements from the several counties, of the amount of school revenue collected in each, and ready for distribution. The 99th section of the school law was evidently intended to provide the department with such statements in due time for the apportionment, but it is found to be insufficient and impracticable for that purpose, both in its provisions and its practical operation. It provides that the "county treasurers, at the time of making their annual settlement, shall furnish the Superintendent a statement of the income of the common school fund in their hands," but, at the date at which the law requires the apportionment to be made, usually but few of the county treasurers have made their settlements with the Auditor of State, and consequently but very few of the statements required by that section have been furnished to the Superintendent. And a further difficulty in the way is, that when such statements are furnished they relate only to the income from the common school fund, and do not, as a general thing, include the entire school revenue ready for distribution, as they should, in order to make them of any value for the purposes of that section.

An amendment of that section of the law so as to secure prompt and full statements from county auditors, instead of treasurers, of the entire amount of school revenue available for distribution is desirable. It can then be taken into the apportionment and its payment into the State treasury, and the payment of it out for its proper object would be concurrent acts, and it is thought that it will prevent the accumulation of large additional balances and produce a salutary effect upon the schools.

It is a prevailing sentiment of the American people that education shall be free and generally diffused throughout the community, and obtainable by all. The primary basis on which this sentiment rests is the safety of the State, and the preservation of our free government. Uneducated men are regarded as a dangerous element in a free or republican government. With the people of this State we may say that this sentiment has become an established principle. The eighth article of the Constitution of Indiana recognizes this sentiment, and the basis on which it rests. The first section of that article makes it an imperative duty of the Legislature to provide, by law, for a general and uniform system of common schools, wherein tuition shall be without charge, and equally open to all. Giving effect to this principle of opening the common schools to every child in the State, and furnishing in them tuition without charge, is the grand and fundamental object of our educational system.

It contemplates that ample provision shall be made by the Legislature, in the way of revenue, to accomplish that object. No system can reasonably be expected to be satisfactory to the people unless it furnishes such tuition, in quantity and quality sufficient to supercede and render unnecessary any effort of private enterprise in that direction. If the revenue can be made sufficient, so that the schools can be thus kept open eight or nine months in the year, and be taught by thoroughly qualified teachers, and the revenue wholly and faithfully applied to its legitimate purpose, and the system administered by the officers connected with it, in an enlightened and economical manner, I cannot see how it can fail to give very general satisfaction to the great body of the people of the State. In most of cases where the former friends of the system have been alienated, it has been done and caused by the insufficiency of revenue for tuition to accomplish the amount of utility which they had been induced to expect under the operation of the system.

The school revenues of the State, for tuition purposes, have never been sufficient to fully develop our present school system, and provide that full measure of school instruction which its friends have desired, and which is necessary for its greatest economy and efficiency. It is very obvious that three months' school per annum costs more in proportion to the educational progress which it accomplishes than nine months' school costs.

The entire school revenue distributed to the townships last May, by the county treasurers, averaged throughout the State but ninety-four cents per child. This revenue was derived as follows: twenty-six cents from the congressional township fund, twelve cents from the common school fund, and fifty-six cents from tax. The object of this distribution is to furnish a satisfactory amount of common school instruction to the 479,317 children of the State, for the current year. Its insufficiency in amount is apparent to all at a glance. We find from the report that but about one half of the above number of children have attended the common schools within the past year, which has the effect to give double the above amount per child, for each child attending school, or $1.80; a less sum than it will cost any of us to purchase three months' schooling for a child, anywhere else than in the common schools. If we could have added to this amount for the current year the entire amount of the balances which are lying back in the State Treasury, being about fifty-three cents per child, it would have helped greatly, but would still be insufficient to furnish a satisfactory amount of schooling. If we divide the total amount of the distribution by the number of schools within the State, we have but $68 to each school for the current year, a sum altogether insufficient to be satisfactory to the friends of common schools. Yet this sum, by the economy of its application, has kept the schools open to average 77 days. In every possible view in which we can present the subject the fact is present to the view that we cannot possibly make the revenue reach to accomplish, in a satisfactory manner, the object sought.

The additional sources of school revenue, which the Legislature, at its last session, provided, will mostly become available for the next apportionment, and be materially felt in the accomplishment of our cherished object. This additional revenue will probably reach $200,000, and even with this augmentation it will yet be insufficient, as it will average with this addition but $99 to each school. Partial as we may be to our present school system, however much we may esteem it above any other which has preceded it, we cannot be blind to the fact that if it is sustained as the permanent system of the State it must be done by providing for it permanent revenues, which shall be adequate to the wants of the people of the State.

The principle that the property of the State shall contribute to educate her children, has become a fixed one with our people, and forms a prominent feature in our system. I am not aware that the application of this principle is seriously opposed anywhere. The chief opposition to it which has anywhere been expressed to me is on account of the inadequacy of the revenues which the application of this principle has been made to yield, and the failure of the full amount provided to reach the object of their collection. The success of our school system may be said to be dependent upon two essential elements, to-wit: adequate means and adequate supervision. Let adequate means be provided, and let the supervisory provisions be amended so as to carry every cent to its proper object, and the system will become the pride of the State.

Our main dependence for sufficient revenue must necessarily be upon tax to be levied by the Legislature. Our school fund as now provided for by law is about six millions of dollars, about one half of which is now productive, and yields a revenue of about $180,000. The other portion of the fund yields but very little revenue at present. It is therefore evident that the additional revenue necessary to sustain the system must mostly come from an increase of tax. The question is not so much as to the source whence the necessary increase is to come, or the general approbation of and acquiescence in the measures requisite for its increase, as it is as to the amount of the increase.

With ninety-four cents per child enumerated, the schools, as before remarked, have been kept open 77 days. This is probably a little above an average result. I have made the enquiry of a great many school officers and friends of the schools, within the past year, as to what length of schools in each year would be satisfactory, and I think no one has replied that less than six months would be satisfactory, and very few have asked for more than nine months' school per annum.

An additional tax of one mill on a dollar of the taxable property will add to the revenue a little more than $435,000; with such an addition our future school revenue would be as follows:

From tax on property .....	$870,000
From tax on polls.....	100,050
From interest on school funds, common and congressional township.....	210,000
From licenses to sell intoxicating liquors.....	75,000
<hr/>
Total.....	$1,255,050
If 20 per cent. is deducted for delinquencies, &c.....	251,010
It will leave net for schools.....	$1,014,040

This will give per child, according to the last enumeration, $2 03, and per school, according to last reports, $153 per annum. Can our present system be sustained in a satisfactory manner with less?

I present this matter thus, in advance of the session of the Legislature, to the end that it may receive some attention, and at the proper time receive the appropriate action of that body.

Whilst considering the means of increasing the school revenue it probably will not be amiss to consider what means may be adopted to secure a more strict enforcement of the law in relation to the augmentation of the school funds, and to render them productive, and to provide for their safety and prompt investment, and the application of the interest to the purposes to which it is appropriated by law, and to secure from the proper officers full and timely reports relative to these funds, and the revenue derived from them and of other school revenue.

In considering these things we should carefully discriminate between the school funds and the school revenues. The want of such discrimination has been a fruitful cause of error in the accounts and reports relating to said funds and revenues. The school funds consist of that which is set apart and appropriated by law to be invested so as to provide an income for the support of common schools. The school revenue is the income which is collected into the public treasuries for the use of the common schools, and consists of taxes, interest, rents and fees for licenses. Of the school funds, the law at present recognizes but two kinds or distinctions; the congressional township and the common school. All other names or distinctions of the funds are abolished. The former consists of the unsold lands which were reserved and granted to the congressional townships for school purposes, and the proceeds of the sale of such lands as have been sold. The latter consists of the moneys and sureties derived from the items enumerated in the second section of the school law, and from the sale of animals running at large. See chapter 4, page 103, section 7, revised statutes.

I will mention some of the imperfections which have been observed in relation to these matters, and suggest the measures which appear to be appropriate for their correction. The precise amount of the school funds, as now appropriated and set apart by law, can not be stated on account of imperfections in a large number of the reports which relate to them. They amount, as before stated, to about six millions of dollars, nearly all of which is understood to be very safely held or invested, and about one-half of the amount now productive of permanent annual income. The portion of these funds which is treated as productive, are entrusted to the counties for investment and management, and the law requires that they be kept at interest. The constitution and the law provides that they may be increased but shall never be diminished, and that the several counties to which they are entrusted shall be held liable for their preservation, and the payment of the annual interest thereon at the rate established by law. The June reports, though many of them imperfect, show forty or fifty thousand dollars of these funds to have been then unloaned, or that the loans had been so suspended on account of their doubtful safety that they yield no revenue. The appropriate correction of the delinquency of interest resulting from these causes would be to provide a more summary way of enforcing against the counties their liability for the payment of the annual interest. The counties will not long continue to pay the interest upon suspended debts, or upon unloaned funds which may accumulate in the treasury. Such a provision would probably assist in carrying the whole of the school revenue collected to its appropriate object.

Several of the items enumerated in the second section of the school law, and forming a part of the common school fund which is created by that section, have never been productive. The money derived from the items to which I allude has never been so added to the fund as to produce any revenue. For instance, one of these items is the lands and other estates which shall escheat to the State for want of heirs or kindred entitled to the inheritance. The money derived from this provision is paid into the State Treasury, where it remains without adding anything to the productive school fund, or augmenting the school revenue in the way of interest. The same remark applies to the money derived from the sale of animals unlawfully running at large. An appropriate correction would probably be found in providing by law for the money derived from these items to be paid into the county treasury, instead of the State Treasury, and there added to the common school fund and invested as such, and be reported at the next annual report of the county auditor to this department as an increase of said fund. A similar disposition might be made of the balance of the swamp land fund. The item of taxes assessed on the property of corporations for common school purposes has never been separated from other school taxes and added to the common school fund. They have thus far gone to the account of revenue and as such been expended.

Some amendment ought to be made to the law, whereby the furnishing to this department of full, uniform and accurate reports of the funds and revenues belonging to the schools, and all other details and statistical matter necessary to an enlightened view of this subject should be provided for. The present manner of rendering these reports is very embarrassing, irregular, and often very unsatisfactory, both to the officers from whom reports are required, and to those to whom they are made. Forms have heretofore been appended to copies of the school law, and published, but they have entirely failed to produce the prompt, accurate and uniform reports which are of vital importance to the success of the system. I have found, almost without an exception, an amount of zeal and good will amongst the school officers to render their reports and perform their school duties in a sufficient and satisfactory manner, yet some of these reports come too late, or are irregular, or deficient in substance, so as to render them of very little or no practical value to the officers to whom they are made, in subserving the object of their requirement. I respectfully suggest two measures, which appear to me to be necessary for the correction of the imperfections here menticted. 1st, let there be furnished in due time by the department, to each person and officer who is required to report, suitable blank reports ready to be filled up and transmitted to the proper officer; and 2d, let there be a reasonable penalty provided for an unreasonable delay or failure to report, and for irregular or insufficient reports. The first of these provisions it is thought will almost, if not entirely, remove all complaint of the insufficiency or irregularity now so seriously complained of, and which is a very glaring defect in our system. The second provision will prevent the delays and failures to report in due time. The penalties should be reasonable, and the provisions for their enforcement simple and gentle, but certain, and without the annoyance to the parties of a suit in court. These reports are to the school system what the breath of life is to the animal system. Without them it cannot live, and its vitality is feeble in proportion to their delay and imperfection.

SCHOOL SUPERVISION.

In our school system as at present organized there is a gap in the supervision of its interests and affairs, which, if properly filled up, would contribute much to facilitate its workings, and assist in its administration. It is that which practically exists between the township trustees and the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The gap is now nominally and in part filled by the county Auditors, but practically it is very insufficiently filled. There is a portion of the duties relative to the schools now required to be performed by the county Auditors, from the performance of which they as a body would be very glad to be relieved.

The duties required of them by law in everything which relates to the care, management, investment, safety and collection of the school funds, and to the collection and distribution of the school revenues, and to the reports of the same, cannot by any means be separated from the office of the county Auditor. But all the other school duties now required of them, and many additional ones not now required of any officer, could, I think, with propriety and great advantage to the schools and satisfaction to the Auditors, be assigned to a suitable officer on Board in each county, in such a manner that their performance would be inexpensive, and greatly facilitate the practical administration of the school system. These duties for performance might be assigned to the school examiners, who could be formed into a school Board for each county. An enlargement of the jurisdiction and increase of the duties of that office would cause the incumbents to feel themselves more closely identified with the school system, and increase their zeal in behalf of the schools. They would be likely to become more assiduous in the performance of their duties, and devoted to the interests of the schools in proportion as they become identified with their organization, and the keeping of them in motion. Such a provision would not be obnoxious to the charge of an increase of the number of school officers; but in the event of this suggestion being adopted the number of school examiners might, with safety, and without serious inconvenience to the teachers or injury to the schools, be reduced to one instead of three, which is now in most cases the number in each county. Judging from the popular favor with which the reduction in the number of township trustees was received throughout the State, we should expect that a similar reduction in this case would meet with similar favor.

School reports, as has been before remarked, form a vital part of the school system. In point of matter they should be ample, in detail accurate, in time prompt. Such reports can not be expected from the county Auditors. Their ordinary official duties aside from those which relate to the schools are very generally regarded as paramount to their school duties. With such duties they are occupied in their offices from day to day and hour to hour, and sufficient time is not left them to mingle with the subordinate officers and teachers, and to visit and inspect the schools, and accumulate the requisite data, and make these reports. They can not do it. One or the other class of duties will be neglected. The diversity between the duties relative to the school business and those relative to the ordinary civil business of the Auditor's office, and the want of contiguity of the fields of their performance, makes it impossible for one man to faithfully perform them all. Provide for it as we may by law some of these duties will be neglected.

If these duties should be assigned to the examiners many additional ones might be so assigned with increased advantage, the prompt and faithful performance of which might be expected. The examiners could be required to visit and inspect the schools of their respective counties, and introduce into them greater uniformity in their organization and management, and more strict conformity to all lawful regulations, and the most approved and successful methods of imparting instruction. They could probably save to the patrons of the schools in their counties more money annually than the pay for their services would amount to, by preventing the impositions which are being practiced by itinerant agents and other persons, by the introduction of unauthorized text books, which displace the genuine and authorized series, to the confusion of the schools. They could take charge of the general interests of teachers' institutes, and appoint the time, place, and length of their meetings, and preside at them or appoint some person to do so, and prescribe the order of business in them. They should as at present examine and license teachers. The proposed enlargement of their jurisdiction and increase of their duties would enable them better to discriminate in their examinations and licensing of teachers, so as to elevate the character and dignity of the profession and improve the schools. They could do much to extend the usefulness of township libraries. They might receive from the township trustees all their school reports, and report the enumeration of children to the county Auditor as the basis of his distribution of the school revenue. They might gather up the necessary information and data, and render ample and detailed reports to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, presenting a "view to life of the labors and deficiencies, the struggles and neglects, the enterprises and sacrifices, the difficulties and disadvantages, the successes and failures," through which the schools pass in the accomplishment of their important mission in the townships, towns and cities of the State. They should carefully observe and report as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the rules and regulations adopted under the law for the management of the schools, to the end that they may be amended if necessary, and made uniform, and accomplish the greatest good. If reports thus full can be promptly rendered, with ample statistical tables, and be properly compiled, and made to form a part of the annual report from this department, and supplied to the local school authorities, they will be consulted with great interest and profit. The doings of one township, town or city will be compared with those of another, and thus furnish information to those who desire and need it, for rendering the system more practicable, and more completely uniform throughout the State. Such reports would materially assist the Legislature in judging of the sufficiency of the school system to work out and accomplish its design, and enable that body to legislate upon the subject intelligibly whenever legislation should be found necessary.

TEXT BOOKS.

It had become apparent that the books for instruction in reading, which had been introduced into the schools by the State Board of Education in 1853, did not enjoy that measure of esteem and public confidence and approbation which was necessary to retain them in the schools. They were nearly out of the market, with but an apparently poor prospect of a sufficient supply to justify or admit of their continuance in the schools. It was therefore thought best, after having heard from many of the most prominent teachers of the State on the subject, to substitute for that series a more elaborate and improved one, which would, if possible, more completely meet the public want in that department of learning. After a careful and patient examination of six or eight different series of school readers, and due consideration of their respective merits, in obedience to the law, I submitted to the State Board of Education for their approval a revised list of text books, which amended the former list by substituting the series of readers known as the Goodrich series for the old Indiana readers, and made some other slight amendments and revisions. This list thus submitted was unanimously approved by the Board, and it was ordered by said Board that the books mentioned and named in said list be introduced into and used in the common schools of the State, as text books for instruction in the several branches of learning to which they relate. The list of text books thus introduced by the State Board of Education and made a part of the law for the government of the schools, is as follows, to-wit :

For instruction in Orthography.—McGuffey's Eclectic Spelling Book. Smith's Juvenile Definer.

For instruction in Writing.—Payson, Dunton and Scribner's Combined System of Rapid Penmanship.

For instruction in Reading.—Child's First Book, an illustrated Primer, by Goodrich. Goodrich's New First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Readers, edited and revised by Noble Butler, A. M.

For instruction in English Language.—The American Dictionary, by Noah Webster, Unabridged Edition. Its addition to the furniture of every school is recommended.

For instruction in Spelling, Pronouncing and Defining.—The School Abridgements of said Dictionary, to-wit : The University Edition, Academic Edition, High School Edition, and Primary School Edition.

For instruction in English Grammar.—Introductory lessons in English Grammar, by Noble Butler, A. M. A Practical Grammar of the English Language, by Prof. Noble Butler, A. M.

For instruction in Arithmetic.—Ray's Arithmetic, parts I, II and III.

For instruction in Geography.—Cornell's series of Primary and Intermediate Geographies. Physical Geography, by Warren Mitchell's series of Outline Maps, ten in number, accompanied by Camp's Key to said series.

For instruction in Anatomy, &c.—Cutter's Anatomy, Physiology and Hygiene, and Cutter's Anatomical Charts and Plates.

For instruction in Composition.—Brookfield's First Book of Composition.

For instruction in Punctuation.—Wilson's Elements of Punctuation.

For instruction in Book-Keeping.—Church's Simplified Book-keeping.

For instruction in Music.—The School Singer, by W. B. Bradbury.

For instruction in History.—Berard's History of the United States.

For instruction in Morals.—The Bible. Cowdry's Moral Lessons. Book of Thought, by Morrell, new edition.

The readers mentioned in the foregoing list are published by Messrs. Morton & Griswold of the city of Louisville, and have been edited, compiled and revised by Prof. Noble Butler, who is extensively and favorably known throughout the State, as the author of our excellent text books for instruction in English grammar, long since introduced and extensively used and approved in the schools of the State. The list was further amended by substituting the late pictorial edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary for the former edition, and by adding some school abridgements of said dictionary. The propriety of placing the pictorial edition of this work in every school is respectfully suggested to the township trustees. To the text books already introduced for instruction in geography has been added Mitchell's series of outline maps, and Camp's key to said series. The rapidity and force with which the eye conveys to the mind a knowledge of the form and motions of the earth, and of the locality and boundaries of the various physical and political subdivisions of its surface, from globes and out-line maps, commends their use in the schools for instruction in geography. The general introduction of them into the schools by the trustees will enable their teachers to impart to their pupils a very good knowledge of geography, at a much earlier age than it can possibly be done by the use of the ordinary text books in that branch of study, and thus save much of the valuable time of the pupil to be devoted to other branches of study during the subsequent school course. In this connection I will mention to the school trustees who desire to furnish their schools with globes that very complete and permanent ones are manufactured, of various sizes and prices, by Moore & Nines, at Troy, N. Y., a twelve inch sample of which (price $15.00,) was furnished by the makers to the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which the school trustees, teachers and others are invited to examine.

TOWNSHIP LIBRARIES.

It is well known to all that the law which called into existence this excellent auxiliary educational force in this State was limited in its operation to two years, and after the expiration of that limitation it was revived and again limited to one year, which last limit expired with the year 1855. By the operation of the library provision of the school law, even with the limitations above mentioned, there were very good libraries, which were respectable in their number of volumes, placed in every township in the State. Most of these libraries have been extensively used in connection with the schools, and have done much to enlarge the measure of general intelligence amongst the mass of our people, and to form habits of reading and studiousness in the young persons of the State, nearly all of whom have easy access to these libraries.

Very little complaint as to the policy of the State in furnishing school libraries to the several townships has ever reached me. The most common complaint which is made to me in relation to them is for want of means to replenish the libraries with new and additional works, and to keep them in repair. In some of the townships I am informed that individuals have read nearly or quite every book in the library, and call loudly for more. The reports as to the number of volumes taken out of the several libraries within the past year are very defective, but enough is furnished to show that they are extensively used throughout the State.

In some communities a few of the books have been objected to on account of their alleged sectarian bias, and for that reason the libraries have been somewhat neglected. In other townships the trustees have not been fortunate in the location of the libraries and the appointment of librarians. Care should be taken to place them in some public place, where they will not annoy a private family, or unreasonably hinder the librarian from his ordinary avocations, and where all persons will feel at liberty to go for books, so that such as will may become the unrestrained and constant patrons of the library, and appropriate to their use much of its literary treasure.

A permanent annual revenue, small when compared with the original revenue for that purpose, is much needed for the support of this feature of our educational system. A bill for that purpose passed the Senate at its last session, by a vote of twenty-nine to nine, but failed to become a law.

STATE PRISON LIBRARY.

The Legislature, at its last session, appropriated five hundred dollars for the purchase of a township library for the use of the State Prison—to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. In giving direction to the expenditure of this appropriation I prepared a catalogue of suitable works, selecting nearly all of them from the catalogues of the township libraries, and submitted a copy of it to four different firms, who were dealing extensively in books, and invited sealed proposals from them for furnishing the books mentioned in the catalogue. The proposal received from Robert Clark & Co., of Cincinnati, was thirty-one dollars lower than any other. The books were therefore ordered from that firm, and were by them faithfully delivered to the prison, under my personal inspection and to my satisfaction.

SINKING FUND.

Whatever residue there may be of the State Bank Sinking Fund, after discharging the other liabilities of the fund, is made by the constitution and laws to form a part of the common school fund of the State. The report of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund for 1858 indicates this residue to be $2,780,604 36, and that it is variously and very safely invested. By an act of the General Assembly, at its last session, the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund is required to distribute the residue of said fund to the different counties of the State, where it shall be held in trust as common school funds, and as such loaned in the same manner and made subject to the same conditions as other common school funds. In accordance with the rules prescribed by that act, said Commissioners have made two distributions. The first in September last, and amounting to about $145,000, and the other in January, and amounting the $84,574 86. The aggregate of both distributions is about $230,000, and has reached sixty-one of the counties of the State, and equalized in them the amount of common school fund held in trust by each, in proportion to their number of children listed for common school purposes, at $2 21 per child. These distributions are to be added to the common school fund and regarded in every respect as a part thereof, and as such to be invested and held subject to all the regulations applicable to said fund; the entire income of which is appropriated in the most solemn and positive manner, by the constitution and the statutes on the subject, to be applied exclusively to furnishing tuition in the common schools of the State, “and to no other purpose whatever.” This income goes to the account of common school revenue, and is annually apportioned to the schools and distributed to pay for tuition in them. These distributions of the Sinking Fund lawfully add more than $16,200 to the school revenue, which will be available for the distribution in May, 1860.

SCHOOL YEAR.

There is no time fixed by law as a school year. It is left optional in some instances for the school officers to include in their reports whatever time they please, and thereby such reports and the statistics which they furnish are reduced in value, and, in some instances and for some purposes, they are nearly useless, on account of the diversity of time to which they relate. A provision by which the school year should be made to commence on a certain day, say the first of October or the first of April annually, would, I think, be of practical utility in securing accuracy in reports, and more uniform and satisfactory data, for the comparison of results and to guide our judgment in determining as to the sufficiency of our system to work out and accomplish its great design.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS.

The office of School Director, as now provided for by law, is a very important one to the schools, and ought to be more carefully guarded or restricted. Directors are often chosen with great irregularity, at school meetings at which but a small portion of the persons forming the school are in attendance. The law does not give them any pay for their services; the office is therefore regarded as a burden which but few suitable persons are willing to take upon themselves. The consequence is that the many and important duties of that office are assigned to very unsuitable persons, to the great injury of the schools. The directors are empowered to preside at school meetings; they determine who belong to the schools, and who are entitled to take part in their meetings and control their proceedings by vote or otherwise. They act as the organ of communication between the inhabitants forming the school and the township trustee. They have charge of the school house and property belonging thereto, subject to the order of the trustee. They make temporary repairs to the school house, furniture, and fixtures, and provide fuel, and report the cost to the trustee for payment. They are required to visit their schools from time to time and exclude refractory pupils. In many instances they determine who may attend the schools. They are empowered to employ and dismiss teachers, and hear and determine petitions for their dismissal. They draw orders on the township treasurers for the payment of teachers, and other expenses of the school, amounting to near three-quarters of a million of dollars annually. They have the power to render their school eminently successful or complete failures. Questions of jurisdiction between directors and trustees sometimes arise to the great injury of the school. They sometimes employ teachers in advance of the apportionment of the money to their schools by the trustee, and for a greater length of time than their apportionment of school money will pay their teacher, and thus endeavor to expend unlawfully for the current year the money which belongs to succeeding years. They sometimes employ teachers regardless of the provisions of the 145th section of the school law, and the question often comes up from the township trustees whether they are liable or have the right to pay to teachers thus unlawfully employed the distributive share of school money apportioned to the school for which the teacher is thus unlawfully employed. Many complaints have reached me of the employment of unqualified teachers, in violation of the 145th section above referred to. These complaints sometimes come from examiners, teachers, patrons of the school, and even pupils sometimes complain that they are retarded in their educational progress by the inability of their teachers to give instruction in the branches of learning which they are pursuing.

The Directors give no official bonds, they are not required to render any official report or any account whatever, of any part or portion of their doings. There is no appeal from their decisions, or other means provided by law whereby their acts can be reviewed and their errors corrected. There are no penalties provided against them for violations of the law, or neglect, or breach of official duty. Some way of escape from the effects of their errors ought to be provided by law. Their powers ought to be restricted, or the directors ought to be in some way made accountable for the abuse of such powers as are entrusted to them, and reasonable compensation for their services provided for them.

EXAMINATION OF TEACHERS.

Any course of policy on the part of school officers which places in the school room an incompetent person as teacher, usually has the effect to exclude from the school much which is desirable, and well worth introducing and retaining. Schools are too often imposed upon by the employment of teachers who have not been subjected to an examination by the county school examiners, and required to procure a certificate of qualification to teach. The law forbids the employment of a teacher unless of good moral character, and possessed of a certificate of qualifications, as provided by law. Upon these certificates we must depend, to a great extent, for safety from imposition by unqualified teachers. If the school examiners will properly discriminate in granting them, and the directors exact them in every case of application for employment, they will become what the law designed them to be—safeguards from imposition, and will do much to prevent the extensive complaints now urged in this behalf.

Many of the school examiners have been at a loss as to the proper construction of the several sections of the school law which relate to this subject and indicate their duty. These sections should be so construed as to harmonize with each other, and, at the same time, accomplish the object of the law, which was to protect the school from imposition by incompetent teachers. The following are, in substance, the provisions of the law on the subject:

Section 105. School meetings shall have power to determine what branches they desire shall be taught in their schools.

Section 107. As amended in 1859, acts of that year, page 179, section 3. A majority of the inhabitants attached to a school, may designate a teacher they wish employed.

Section 145. No teacher shall be employed until he shall have procured a certificate of qualifications as provided by law.

Section 147. School examiners shall examine all applicants, and if found qualified, shall license them, at discretion, for any time not exceeding two years.

Section 148. Licenses shall specify the branches which the person licensed is qualified to teach.

Section 149. No person shall be licensed as a teacher, unless possessed of a knowledge of Orthography, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, and English Grammar.

From these provisions we may conclude:

1st. That no determination of a school meeting, as to what branches shall be taught in their schools, as provided for by section 105, or designation of a teacher, as provided for by section 107, as amended, can authorize a violation of sections 145, 147 and 149. That such determination, as to branches to be taught or designation of teacher to be employed, must be done, with due respect for the other provisions of the law, and so as to facilitate instead of obstruct their operation.

2d. That no teacher can be lawfully employed in a common school, unless he, or she, shall have procured a license to teach, which shall be in full force, and unexpired, by its own limitation, at the date of the employment.

3d. No person can be lawfully licensed as a teacher unless possessed of a knowledge which, in the opinion of the Examiner, is sufficient, in kind and quantity, to enable such person to teach and give instruction in each of the six branches of learning mentioned in section 149.

4th. All licenses should indicate upon their face the branches of learning which the person licensed is qualified to teach, not less than the six branches mentioned in section 149, and should, also, by its range of limit, not exceeding two years, indicate the degree of qualification possessed by the person licensed.

The operation of teachers licenses is not confined or restricted to the county in which they are granted. Neither is there any power given by law to revoke such licenses. It would, I think, be very proper to provide for both.

The school examiners are required by law to examine all applicants for license as teachers of common schools, and if found qualified to license them, and report their proceedings annually to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Reports have been received from examiners of twenty-five of the counties, they being from twenty-nine of the two hundred and fifty examiners of the State. Many of the reports which have been received have been found to be very informal and deficient, and furnishes another very striking instance of the necessity of supplying the officers with blanks from this Department for all official reports required by law to be made to it. These reports include different portions of time, and indicate the licensing of teachers as follows:

NORMAL SCHOOLS.

The chief object of Normal schools is to instruct their pupils in the science and practice of teaching all the branches of learning pursued in our common schools, and to qualify them for the greatest possible usefulness in the teacher's profession. It is of the first importance in point of economy in the expenditure of our school money that it is spent upon teachers who are thoroughly qualified as such. I hear from no county in the State on this subject, but what I hear complaints of the want of qualified teachers. Since the people, by the Constitution, have surrendered to the State and her General Assembly the whole business of providing for the education of the children of the State by a uniform system of common schools, it has been very generally understood to be her duty to provide for that object by schools, which, in point of excellence, cannot be surpassed by any private schools. Her teachers should be of the first class, educated and trained especially for the profession, who enter it with a degree of zeal and understanding which will enable them to command success.

Our exclusively public system of common schools cannot be expected to long enjoy the confidence of our people, unless it is made fully equal, or superior, in kind, to any system which can be provided by private effort. We cannot be too strongly impressed with the fact that in order that our school system should retain that measure of public confidence which is necessary for its perpetuity, its schools must be made as good as the best private schools, and kept open a reasonable portion of the time. What is necessary for this? We can but answer, that, next to a sufficient revenue, competent teachers is the great necessity.

I fear that we will never realize that completeness of qualification of teachers which we desire, and which is due to our system, and demanded by strict economy, and all important for the success of the schools, and which has become a first and commanding necessity, until the State adopts and carries into effect some plan for normal school instruction for her teachers, by which she can properly educate, train and improve them in the science and practice of teaching, for the better supplying her common schools. Until the State effectually moves in this matter we cannot expect that very many of the eight or ten thousand teachers annually employed in the schools of the State will stand forth in the foremost rank of their profession as its finished ornaments.

For light and information upon this subject we look to our sister States, where normal schools or some modification of them have been established or made available by State authority, for the accomplishment of this object. In such States normal schools are no longer an experiment, but they are fully established, and form an indispensable and highly satisfactory part of their educational system. Whatever State has undertaken the management and carrying forward of a system of common schools, and made commendable educational progress therein, and acquired a reputation for the excellence of their schools, has found normal schools to be a necessity, and have established and brought them into use by State authority. The imperative law of necessity requires and justifies their establishment and organization. The alternative is the languishing of the schools, in a kind of half living and half dead condition, for want of "live teachers" to introduce into them more invigorating exercises. Shall we content ourselves with this alternative?

ENCOURAGEMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

The convention which formed our organic law for a free government did not fail to declare the things essential for its preservation, and enjoin the duty of their encouragement upon the General Assembly. The first section of the eighth article of the Constitution reads as follows: "Knowledge and learning, generally diffused throughout a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government, it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to encourage, by all suitable means, moral, intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvement, and to provide, by law, for a general and uniform system of common schools, wherein tuition shall be without charge, and equally open to all." The General Assembly has, from time to time taken important steps towards the discharge of this duty. It has provided for the general diffusion of knowledge and learning throughout the community by raising a school revenue, providing for free schools, and public libraries, and agricultural Boards and Societies, and thus encouraged by means very suitable in kind, moral, intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvement. The encouragement already provided by the General Assembly has done much towards the accomplishment of this favorite object of the Convention—the general diffusion of knowledge and learning throughout the community, and the preservation of our free government.

It is proverbial that a free government sits easily upon an agricultural people, and that, with such a people, its institutions are most safe. Agriculture is conceded by all to be a prominent interest in the State of Indiana. A large portion of her people are employed in its pursuits, and a large portion of her wealth is also thus employed. That interest yields bountifully to her revenue, and contributes largely to her general strength and prosperity, and to the happiness of her people. These facts would appear to invite for agricultural improvement a large share of Legislative encouragement. The kind and measure of such encouragement is, of course, for the General Assembly, under the Constitution, to determine.

The section of the Constitution above quoted appears to contemplate that agricultural improvement should receive encouragement at the hands of the State in connection with her system of common schools, the general diffusion of knowledge and learning, and her great educational interests. That it should be introduced as a branch of learning, and its rudiments, at least, be taught in the higher departments of our common schools. Instruction in the science and also in the art of agriculture I think could, with great propriety, be made an important feature in any provision which the State may see fit to make for normal schools for the preparation and training of teachers. Thus the study of that branch of learning could be very pleasantly and profitably introduced into the schools, and would probably result in the establishment of an agricultural college, to which students from advanced classes in the common schools who wish it, can be admitted, and receive a full and thorough course of instruction in agriculture and its kindred studies, which will enable them to enter upon their favorite calling in such an enlightened and practical manner as to secure to themselves the greatest measure of utility for their efforts, and to the State a corresponding benefit.

PRIVATE INSTITUTIONS OF LEARNING.

I have no important information to communicate relative to the colleges and other private institutions of learning established and in operation within the State. The law does not require them to report to this Department. Any detailed inquiries in relation to them are liable to be regarded by the person of whom they are made as more or less troublesome, unauthorized and intrusive, and it is at the option of the persons who have the management of the affairs of such institutions to furnish or withhold, at pleasure, the information sought. The effect of this is to leave the people, the Legislature and this Department very insufficiently informed as to the educational facilities at command within the State.

If consistent with the private and vested rights of such institutions provision ought to be made by law for annual or biennial reports from them to this Department. If such a provision would not be consistent with their rights the present law on the subject evidently ought to be repealed. Such reports can probably be made eminently and mutually useful to the people of the State and the institutions making them. They would augment the school statistics and information in relation to such institutions, in a manner and to an extent very necessary to enable the people of the State and the Legislature to better realize and appreciate their educational efforts, and estimate more accurately the extent of their assistance in carrying forward the great school enterprise in which the State is embarked.

It is desirable that no conflict shall exist between these higher institutions of learning and the more humble common schools. They should receive the fostering care of the State to the end that their greatest capacity for good may be developed and brought into requisition for the general diffusion of knowledge and learning throughout the community. They are highly necessary in order to secure that completeness of scholastic polish which is deemed essential in the learned professions, and desirable in the man of extensive and diversified business.

It is not claimed for or expected of the common schools to apply to their pupils that high degree of literary polish which is expected to be communicated by the College or the University. But they may be expected to become, as it were, preparatory departments of the colleges, in which young men and young ladies may receive that suitable measure of instruction which shall be preparatory to their successful entrance upon a regular college course of instruction, or upon the active business of life, as their inclinations may dictate.

THE NECESSITIES OF OUR SYSTEM.

For the subsequent success of our school system there appears to be three great necessities, which are of importance in the order in which they are stated.

1st. Such an increase of the school revenue as will provide for and keep the schools open a length of time which will be generally satisfactory.

2d. Normal schools, or some modification of them, for the improvement of the professional character of common school teachers.

3d. Such a reasonable amendment or revision of the school law as may be necessary to remove its apparent discrepancies, make its administration more uniform, certain and effective, and carry the whole of the revenue which it provides more direct to the schools.

In relation to these necessities enough has probably been said in the foregoing pages to plainly indicate them, and to intimate what measures are regarded as appropriate for their relief. More mature plans for the relief of these and minor necessities will probably be duly presented to the General Assembly at its next regular session.
